ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my profound sense of gratitude to my Research Supervisor Prof. G. Rajarami Reddy, Department of Zoology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, for suggesting me this problem. I remain indebted to him for his constant interest, inspiring guidance, critical analysis and enlightened discussions. His wisdom, combined with enthusiasm, is central in bringing out this thesis to the present form. I am fortunate to have blessed with the privilege of working under his guidance. His affection and encouragement shown throughout my research is really immemorable.

I record my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. K. Sathyavelu Reddy, Head, Department of Zoology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati for providing me necessary laboratory facilities during the period of this study.

I extend my deep and sincere thanks to Mrs. M. Usha Rani, for her moral support, and my research colleagues S. Sadak Basha, N. Saya Reddy, D. Chand Basha, N. Sreenivasulu, N. Naga Raju, O. Neelakanta Reddy, M. Ram Kumar, K. Praveen Kumar, S. Saritha for their timely help that has contributed in many ways for the successful completion of this work. I express my special thanks to my senior research scholars Dr. Hariprasad Reddy, Dr. Jayaprashanti, Dr. Bhuvaneswari Devi, for their support in the completion of my research.

I owe immensely to my beloved parents Sri. V. Sathyu Narayana, Sm. V. Subhadramma, my in-laws Sri. Y. Rama Krishnaiiah, Sm. Y. Nirmalamma, my husband Mr. Y. Rama Mohan, my sisters V. Swarna Latha, V. Aruna Kumari, V. Sudha, my cute son Y. Sathvik and other family members for their encouragement throughout my research work.

Finally, I am to express my warmest feelings to my dear lab mates S. Sardar, Muneendra, my fellow researchers Lavanya, Sailaja, Giri Babu, Kumar Babu, Obaiah, Bhavani, Priyadarshini, Swaroopa and my friends Indira and Bhagya who have given me a lot of support and encouragement.
