ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Words cannot express enough the heartfelt gratitude. As research work of this kind cannot be completed without the support from the guide, family, friends and well-wishers. Before I move on to examine the Biography As Fiction : A Study of Amitava Kumar's Work, I must acknowledge my gratitude to all on whom I relied for this work.

It's a fact that every mission needs a spirit of hard work and dedication but it needs to be put on the right path to meet its destination and in my case this credit goes to my esteemed guide, Dr. Gunjan Aggarwal, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Humanities and Social Sciences, Maharishi Markandeshwar University, Mullana. I express my sincerest gratitude to Dr. Bhim Singh Dahiya and appreciation for making himself available whenever I needed. By virtue of his invaluable scholastic suggestion and constructive criticism, I have been able to look at things in a better way. His astute guidance and sacrifice of his personal hours for me have culminated in the form of present work. I am highly indebted to him whose encouragement, supervision and support from the preliminary to the concluding level enabled me to develop an understanding of the subject. In addition to providing me with an in-depth understanding of my subject, the values that he has inculcated in me always going to help me in my life in whatever I do.

It is a pleasure to record my respectful thanks to Dr. Tanu Gupta, Head, Dept. of Humanities and Social Sciences, Maharishi Markandeshwar University, Mullana for whole-hearted support and sustained encouragement. Her valuable suggestion and enlightening ideas were always of immense use.

My gratitude is due to all the members of the faculty for their co-operation and help.

I am grateful to the Librarians of the British Council Library, the American Library, Sahitya Academy Library, University of Delhi at New Delhi and Maharishi Dayanand University at Rohtak for providing me with books, periodicals and other relevant materials needed for my research.

I record with a deep sense of gratitude, the prayers, concern and encouragement of my parents who have been always extending a strong emotional support to me during the preparation of this thesis. I am obliged to them for their blessings who stood with me in times of crisis and gave me support and encouragement to complete the thesis.

I must specially thank my sister Amita and dear brother Dr. Abhimanyu for just being there whenever I needed them.

How can I forget to thank some of names, which have taught me the meaning of friendship and togetherness, their unconditional love, moral support and help in all facets of my life. The names Rama Madam, Raj Madam and Santosh Madam will ever remain indelible in my memory.

I am affectionately thankful to my mother in law and my sister in law, Neeraj and Dr. Shiwani for their support and friendly co-operation.

It is rather difficult to define the experience of my sweet son Aadi who was stunned out of his wits while observing me burning the midnight oil. He was just moonstruck during my research work

I am indebted to my husband; Ranjan for all his help, encouragement, advice, immeasurable support, understanding, love and for being part of my life. Thank you so much Ranjan without you; I would never have completed my work.

My heartiest thanks to R.S. Rehal for making the thesis presentable.

I could go on, but unfortunately there is not enough space to name everyone who has helped with my thesis. This is to everyone who provided invaluable input and guidance into my thesis-thank you all. I am indebted to the world, and I can only hope to someday make a contribution that is worthy.

Above all it is Almighty who has been pouring his blessing on me, To him I owe my lifelong indebtedness.

Finally, all mistakes in this thesis are mine.
