The present study entitled Over-Lapping Values of Life and Art: A Study of Willa Cather's Fiction was undertaken under the guidance of Dr. A.G. Khan, Professor, Department of English, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad. I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to him for his able guidance and insight in the subject. It was during our very first discussion on the topic that he made me realize that research is a very lengthy process and that it involves lot of hard work, commitment and devotion. These words of respected Dr. A. G. Khan have given me inspiration from the initial stage of my thesis till it is in the form of bound copy and will help me through out my life.

I offer my sincere thanks to the teaching and non-teaching staff of the Department of English, to the Library staff and the Librarian for their cooperation and ready to help nature. I am also thankful to the Librarian and the Library staff, Hostel manager, (including everyone working in the hostel) and to the Director of Indo American Centre for International Studies, Osmania University Campus, Hyderabad for providing the required study material relevant for my thesis and for excellent accommodation which accelerated my spirit.
I cannot express my gratitude in words towards my husband Mr. Unmesh Kadam, my Niece Ajita and Sujata Dattaray Kute for their untiring support and their help in many ways. Without their help it was highly impossible to complete this thesis.

Among my family members I would like to thank my father-in-law Mr. Uttamrao Babarao Kadam, my mother-in-law for encouraging me to continue my studies after marriage. But for their understanding and blessing I could not have completed this thesis.

I do not understand how I should thank my little ones Avnish and Aadesh Kadam for their cooperation and understanding; I can understand their demand that I complete my thesis as soon as possible so that I could be with them all the time.

I am thankful to my parents, my brothers, sister, sisters-in-law, brothers-in-law and all my relatives and friends for their cooperation, encouragement and help.
