ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Completing my Ph.D. journey would have been impossible without the aid and support of many people over the past few years.

First of all, I gratefully acknowledge my supervisor, Prof. A. Rama Mohan Reddy, for his strong support and invaluable guidance throughout my degree. I am particularly grateful for his patient and steadfast support. I truly appreciate the confidence he instilled in me and all the advice that he has been kind to give me through these years.

My gratitude and appreciation also goes to the Head of the Department, Dr. Ch. D. V. Subba Rao, and all the teaching staff of the Department of CSE, who have provided me with a stimulating working environment. I would also like to thank all the non-teaching staff for being helpful during my study years.

I am very grateful to my mother, for her efforts to provide me with the best possible education and for her continuous and unconditional support of all my undertakings, scholastic and otherwise. This education is the outcome of her many sacrifices and unconditional love.

I owe my eternal gratitude to Mr. M. Sunil Kumar and his entire family, for their persistent help, love, friendship and encouragement. I recognize that this thesis would not have been possible without their valuable help at different stages of time.

I owe abstruse gratitude to my uncle Mr. K. Prasad and family for their multifarious support ever since my childhood. I doubt that I will ever be able to convey my appreciation to them fully. My heartfelt appreciation goes to my cousin Mr. K. Mourya for his constructive criticism.

My thanks are due to all the supporting friends throughout the Ph.D. course for our philosophical debates, exchanges of knowledge and skills.
