ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It is really difficult to express in words my deep feeling of gratitude towards my respected and Hon’able research guide Dr. P. K. Puranik, Assistant professor, Dept. of Pharmaceutics, Govt. College of pharmacy, Aurangabad for his invaluable guidance and incessant encouragement throughout this research project.

This research project completed successfully, only due of his enthusiasm, inspiration and great efforts to explain things clearly and simply. His hard work, efficiency and drive for success, have always been and will be a source of inspiration for me. This research work is compiled excellently in its best form only because of his continual persuasion and perseverance during the thesis-writing.

I must confess that his provocation and dissatisfaction for superficial, kindled my enthusiasm for insight of the matter and motivated me to strive for excellence.

I convey my sincere feeling of thankfulness towards Dr. V. K. Mourya, Principal, Govt. College of Pharmacy, Aurangabad for kindly providing me all the required facilities and excellent infrastructure to carryout the research project smoothly.

My special thanks are reserved for Hon’ble Mrs. Fatma Rafiq Zakaria, Chairman, Maulana Azad Educational Trust, for her continuous motivation and moral support throughout the research project.
