ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am highly indebted to my beloved teacher and guide Prof. S. Narayanan, M.A., Ph.D., Dip. in Stat., Professor and Head, Department of Psychology, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore for his painstaking supervision, valuable criticisms and constant encouragement for the successful completion of the thesis. But for his Mida's touch the work would not have taken its present shape.

My sincere thanks are due to the faculty members of the Department of Psychology, Bharathiar University. Mr. Venkatachalam, M.A., M.Phil. and Dr. V. Ganesan, M.A., Ph.D., for their inspiration and encouragement at the various stages of the study.

I am much obliged to the respondents who spared their precious time by cooperating with me to conduct this investigation.

Words are not sufficient to express my indebtedness to my mother and to my wife, who were always sources of inspiration.

My heartfelt thanks are due to my friends for their unstinted support and understanding.
