Acknowledgement

On presenting the thesis work, no words, no calligraphic, no adjectives can completely express the profound sense of gratitude and thanks giving for those who have been instrumental in giving their assiduous efforts to its present form.

The heart and soul of this work is nothing but, a mirror image of a scintillating and dazzling personality of my esteemed Guide Dr. (Mrs.) Sheela Longia M.D., Professor and Head, Department of Pediatrics, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi. Her exemplary dedication, uncompromising standards and constructive criticism have been instrumental in giving the final shape to my effort. Above all the academic and departmental vexation, it was her humanitarian approach, sweet loving nature and unbridled enthusiasm that served as a very strong influence on me, to carry out my work undauntingly and with dedication. This study carries a bold imprint of her distinctive personality as a whole.

I deeply appreciate the thorough guidance, support and help bestowed upon me by my Co-Guide Dr. (Mrs.) Ratna Saxena, M.D., Associate Professor, Department of Pathology, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi. Without her active involvement, this job would have been incomplete, in its present final shape and colour.

Words fail to express my gratitude for Dr. Anil Kaushik, M.D., Associate Professor, Department of Pediatrics, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi, a man much appreciated by everyone for his dynamic and zealous personality, very helping and very understanding nature.
I would fail in my duty if I do not express my heartfelt thanks, respect and gratitude to Dr. R.S. Sethi, M.D., D.Ch., Associate Professor, Department of Pediatrics, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi, whose unfathomed knowledge, untiring zest for work and vitality influenced the heart and pace of this work.

I am also grateful to Dr. Lalit Kumar, M.D, D.Ch, Assistant Professor, Department of Pediatrics, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi, whose dynamic personality, meticulous attention to details, very practical approach, uncompromising principles, wise concrete suggestions guided me to carry out my work.
