ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This work entitled HALASI – A STUDY has assumed its present form owing to the help, support and encouragement I have meticulously drawn from several individuals and institutions; and acknowledging this I deem a matter of pleasure.

The research was carried out under the able guidance and supervision of Dr. H.R. Raghunath Bhat, Director, Kannada Research Institute, Karnataka University, Dharwad. He has not only ably supervised this work but also has been a constant source of encouragement. His suggestions are invaluable in shaping this work. I remain very much indebted to him for all the help, guidance and encouragement I received in preparing this work.

I have benefited greatly from many individuals and institutions in preparing this thesis. In particular I must acknowledge my hearty thanks and gratitude to Prof. A. Sundara, former Chairman, Department of Ancient Indian History and Epigraphy, Karnataka University, Dharwad. He has made invaluable suggestions and advice at all stages of my research work to resolve many of my doubts. I owe a special debt of gratitude to Smt. Bhagyalaksmi Sundara for her motherly affection and hospitality.

Dr. G.S. Dixit, the grand old historian was kind enough to give constant motivation and healthy suggestions while preparing this thesis. I owe him a deep debt of gratitude.

My thanks are due to Dr. Shrinivas V. Padigar, Chairman, Department of Ancient Indian History and Epigraphy, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Professor S.H. Ritti, Dr. Ravi Korishettar, Dr. R.M. Shadaksharaiah, Dr. G.S. Ghatapanadi, and Dr. H.S. Gopalarao. In spite of their preoccupations they showed keen interest and patience to discuss some of the important issues and problems concerned with my thesis.

My special thanks are due to Late Sri Jayant Pitre, Sri Parupatyagar and Sri Chandrakant Desai, President, Taluk Panchayat, Halasi town who have been of great help and encouragement to me during my frequent visits to the place.

During the course of my research I have utilised the Libraries of Kannada Research Institute and Prof. S.S. Basavanal Library, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Karnataka College Library, Dharwad, Library of Goa State Archives and Museum and University of Goa, Goa. I sincerely acknowledge my thanks to the authorities, librarians and other staff members of these institutions who have cooperated in my endeavour. I am also thankful to the authorities of Archaeological Survey of India and Directorate of Archaeology and Museums, Karnataka for their kind cooperation.

I place on record my thanks to the members of the Management of the SKE Society. I sincerely thank Principal N.K. Marathe, RPD College, Belgaum for his encouragement and support in the completion of this work. My thanks are due to the librarian and the library staff of the RPD College and my friends in the college for their encouragement and cooperation.

I am grateful to Shri Girish Kulkarni for formatting the thesis, Dr. Sheeli for preparing the maps and my colleague Prof. S.S. Shinde for the scanning and layout of the photographs appeared in this thesis. The neatness of their work speaks for itself.

My special thanks are due to my respected parents but for whose blessings and encouragement it would not have been possible for me to complete this endeavour. My brothers, sister and sisters-in-law stood by me in hard times. I am thankful to them for their encouragement and cooperation.

My husband Shri Pramod Surebankar has been a source of constant encouragement throughout my research work. I find no words to adequately express my gratitude for his patience, motivation and support which has enabled me to complete this thesis.

Lastly I register my thanks to the authorities of the Karnataka University, Dharwad for kindly permitting me to submit this thesis for the award of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Smita P. Surebankar
