This chapter lists the references of various studies that have been conducted in the past by various researchers, which have a great relevance to this particular study.
REFERENCES

12. Source: "Fruit and vegetable processing in India" by G.K. Kaul from NFA Archives.

"INDIA- the largest fruit producer but the smallest fruit processor needs to strengthen its fruit processing industry with a strategic re-orientation and integrated approach, in order to exploit the huge potential."

"INDIA- the largest fruit producer but the smallest fruit processor needs to strengthen its fruit processing industry with a strategic re-orientation and integrated approach, in order to exploit the huge potential."

"INDIA- the largest fruit producer but the smallest fruit processor needs to strengthen its fruit processing industry with a strategic re-orientation and integrated approach, in order to exploit the huge potential."

"INDIA—the largest fruit producer but the smallest fruit processor needs to strengthen its fruit processing industry with a strategic re-orientation and integrated approach, in order to exploit the huge potential."

