ANCILLARISATION

PREFACE

Ancillarisation is a part of Small industries development program. The objective of ancillary development is also therefore in consonance with the overall objective for the growth of employment opportunities, development of entrepreneurship, dispersal of industrial activities particularly in the backward areas of the country etc. In addition, growth of ancillaries results in certain special advantages relating to complementarity of output to bring about reduction in cost, development of specialization in specific fields, creation of cadres of single discipline experts and reduction in gestation periods of setting up small scale units. Establishment of industrial activity by the ancillaries also generates tertiary activities in the backward areas. The ancillary development program therefore deserves emphasis. So, the researcher felt the need for a micro-level study of ancillarisation.

I am delighted to submit a dissertation titled:

“Ancillarisation : A Case Study of North Karnataka Industrial Area”.

This thesis is submitted to the Karnataka University, Dharwar, for award of the degree of under the able supervision and guidance of Dr. A H CHACHADI, Research guide, Director Kousali Institute of Management Studies, Karnataka University, Dharwad. Indeed, it was a pleasure to be associated with him and for his unstinted support. I am very much thankful to him for allowing me to work under his guidance and also for number of days spent in guiding and discussion.

“Doctor of Philosophy in Management”

I sincerely thank Dr. M S Subhash, Professor and Chairman, Board of studies in Management, Karnataka University Dharwar for his encouragement and keen interest shown in this research work.

I thank Dr. A B Kalkundrikar, Director Institute of Management Education and Research Belgaum, for discussions, suggestions and ideas.

I am very much obliged to Prof. Pankaj Chandra of Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad and Prof. J G Naik, Senior grade lecturer, Department of Commerce, Gogte College of Commerce, Belgaum for their valuable suggestions and kind co-operation.

I am very much thankful to Mr. C G Lakkundi, Chairman, North Karnataka Sub-contract Exchange, Hubli and Mr. Mahadev Dhadd, Chairman, Belgaum Small Scale Industries association, Belgaum and Mr. G S Kulkarni, Joint Director DIC, Belgaum, for giving me relevant information and also for facilitating smooth collection of data.

I am deeply indebted to the librarians of Indian Institute of Management Ahmedabad, Indian Institute of Management Bangalore, National Institute of Bank Management Pune, National Productivity Council, New Delhi and National Institute of Small Industries Extension and Training (NISIET) Hyderabad, who provided the necessary assistance.

I express my deep gratitude to the honorable members of the Management of Karnataka Law Society, Belgaum, who always support all the faculty development Programs.
The officers of Directorate of Industries and Commerce, Bangalore, District Industries Center, Small Industries Development Bank of India and Chamber of Commerce and Industries, deserve my sincere thanks.

I thank all the authors of authoritative literature, whose works have been incorporated at suitable places. And finally, without the active participation of our respondents, this study would hardly have been possible.

I thank my husband, Mr. Manoj N Charantimath and son, Amit M Charantimath for their cooperation.

Place: Belgaum
Date: 1st September 2001

Mrs. Poornima M Charantimath