BIBLIOGRAPHY
BIBLIOGRAPHY

Page No. 135-93.

44. Kumar, S.: Use of collagen based materials in bridging the abdominal wall defects: A clinical and experimental study, Thesis for M.S. (Surgery), Maryland University, 1969.

45. Lee, Y.: Early retrograftings of partial thickness

46. Martin, C., Robson et al.: Quantitative comparison

47. Martin, C., Robson et al.: Effects of amniotic membrane

48. Martin, C., Robson et al.: Clinical experiences with amniotic membrane as a temporary biologic dressing.

49. Martin, C., Robson et al.: Amniotic membrane as a

50. Massie, J.A., Symmonds, R.E., Doenzy, M.A., and Callenback, C.A.: Use of fetal membranes as replacement for pelvic peritonum after pelviscopic.

51. Michal, J., Tavis, James thornton, Richard Dunst and

52. Miller, J. et al.: Early homografting of second degree

53. Moncrief, J.A.: Topical antibacterial therapy of burn
61. Salisbury, R. E., Vilzaro, D. K., Silverstein, F. M.:
Biological dressing for skin grafting donor sites.

