ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It is with great pleasure, I express my sincere thanks to my research supervisor, Prof. N.B.K. Reddy, former Professor and Head of the Department of Geography, S.V. University, Tirupati, for suggesting this problem and for encouragement and supervision throughout the period of this work. It is impossible for me to express what I owe to him for the time he spared for me in the midst of several preoccupations and for his keen interest in my thesis at every stage by offering his valuable criticisms and suggestions by which I have profited immensely. I place on record my profound sense of gratitude for his scholastic guidance.

I am much grateful to Dr. P. Narayanamma, Reader and Head of the Department of Geography, S.V.University, Tirupati, for providing facilities to carry out the investigation and for having been a constant source of good will and encouragement.

My thanks are also due to Dr. M.V. Reddy, Lecturer, Dept of Geography, S.V.University, Tirupati and to Dr. Y.V. Ramanaiah, Reader, Dr. K. Ravindra Reddy, Lecturer, Dept. of Geography, S.K. University, Anantapur, for their kind encouragement.

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Y. Yagama Reddy, Lecturer, Centre for Studies on Indo-China, S.V. University, Tiruapti, for his abiding interest in the progress of my research work and a word of cheer throughout.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. D. Narasimha Reddy, Department of Economics, University of Hyderabad, and Dr. V. Jayasimbulu Naidu, Reader, Dept. of Economics, S.V. University, who offered several valuable suggestions in the completion of this work.
