ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It would be appropriate to begin with the situations which led me to study the problem of Principal's administrative success. It is now very common among the people to talk about one's efficiency or to evaluate one's achievements in the form of success or failure. Like the others I too, was having a question in my mind since my childhood. The question was: what is basically needed for a successful Principal? My father, who is no more now, had also paid his full attention in this regard as he himself was a Principal of a college. So, it was rather natural for me to have some interest for such a question. Secondly, it was a chance that I become a student of education and later on, I started my career as a Lecturer in Education. This all have provided me an opportunity to learn about the fundamentals and also I could be able to justify that to study about the Principal's administrative success as related to some important variables, is a meaningful aspect of research in the area of Educational Administration & Management. Hence,
I felt a need to undertake such a problem like the present one for investigation.

First of all, I feel it my privilege to acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude to the meaningful guidance extended to me by Dr. Ram Lakhan Vishwakarma, my supervisor. He has extended his full co-operation, and encouraging attitude which has been instrumental throughout the completion of the present work. The credit for whatever is good in this work certainly belongs to him.

I feel a high sense of indebtedness to my respected teacher Dr. R.A. Sharma (Professor & Head, Department of Education, Institute of Advanced Studies, Meerut University, Meerut). Words are not enough to explain that whatever I am, is due to the teachings of Dr. Sharma. His deep rooted and valuable suggestions helped me a lot and worked as an illustrious guideline during the entire period of my research.

I am equally grateful to Dr. R.P. Bhatnagar (Retd. Professor & Head), Dr. K.G. Sharma (Professor), and Dr. J.P. Srivastava (Reader), all belong to Department of Education, Institute of Advanced Studies, Meerut University, Meerut, and also Dr. Ram Shakal Pandey, Professor & Head, Department of Education, University of Allahabad, Allahabad, for their meaningful advice and all the pains they have taken despite they being pre-occupied with heavy engagements.

I am also grateful to Dr. Y.K. Gupta, Department of Education, Hindu College, Moradabad for his valuable guidance and suggestions especially in the preparation of questionnaires of the present study. I also wish to pay my sincere thanks to Dr. V.P. Singh and Dr. G.S. Agrawal of the same department for extending me co-operation and genuine help.

I am indebted to Mrs. (Dr.) T.K. Pal, Principal, Mahila Mahavidyalaya, Bahraich, who never constrained me to think about any sort of inconvenience during the entire period of my research work and she has always been kind enough in providing me help and co-operation.

The researcher is duty bound to feel obliged for the co-operation received from the Principal, Attara College, Attara (Banda), for providing necessary facilities in connection of this research work.

I am obliged and thankful to the persons of the different libraries, viz., N.C.E.R.T., New Delhi, I.C.S.S.R., New Delhi and Library of Meerut University, Meerut, who generously helped and allowed me to consult at the respective libraries for the comprehensive review of the related literature.

My sincere thanks also stand to Dr. B.S. Nagi of Council for Social Development (Computer Centre), 53 - Lodhi Estate, New Delhi, who spared himself to prepare the Computer Programmes. I am equally thankful to Mr. Shiv Narain of Bahraich who has very painstakingly and neatly typed this manuscript despite his busy schedule.

I am highly thankful to my Brother-in-Law, Dr. Suneet Upadhyaya, who helped me during the collection of data and at various stages of the present study. I am also equally thankful to my brothers and sisters for they have motivated me during the entire period of my research.
I have no words to explain about the co-operation and untiring efforts of my husband, Dr. Subhash Upadhyaya (Lecturer, Department of Education, Hindu College, Moradabad) who helped me in various ways at the different stages of my research work. It was rather difficult for me to collect the data, if he would have not helped me. No phrase has the appropriate words to express my gratitude for his co-operation and help.

Finally, I say with confidence that it is Almighty's strength and mercy through which I could complete and submit the present work. God help me.

(MRS. RAMJANA S. UPADHYAYA)
RESEARCHER.
