ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I deem it a great pleasure to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to my research supervisor Prof. V. Sreedevi, Chairman, Board of Studies, Department of Home Science, S. V. University, Tirupati for her able guidance and valuable suggestions. Her constant encouragement and keen interest have been a source of motivation to me throughout the course of this study. I am highly indebted to her.

I am immensely grateful to Prof. D. Baby, Head, Department of Home Science, S. V. University, Tirupati for providing me the facilities in carrying out my research work.

My sincere thanks are due to Prof. S. Padmanabhaiah, Department of Education and Mrs. V. Vijayakshimi, Statistician, Department of Home Science, S. V. University, Tirupati for their co-operative and cheerful assistance in the statistical analysis of the present study.

I express my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to Dr. M. L. Santhanam, Deputy Director and Head, Centre for Behavioural and Organisational Development (CBOD), National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad for his constructive criticism and rich ideas in my writing this thesis. Without his help and constant encouragement, I could not have completed this thesis in time. I would equally be grateful to Mrs. Sulochana Santhanam for her continued and fine hospitality rendered to me in all my visits to their home in connection with my academic stay at Hyderabad.

I am especially thankful to Prof. A. Munirathnam Reddy, Former Professor, Department of Anthropology S.V. University for his fruitful discussions in writing this thesis.

I am highly indebted to Dr. V. S. Deep Kumar, Audience Research Officer, All India Radio, Bangalore for generously sharing his knowledge, encouragement and timely help in the present work.

My sincere thanks are also due to Dr. C. K. Jayasankar, Dr. Rv. S. S. N. Ravi Kumar, Dr. K. V. Narasimhulu, Dr. K. Raja Mohan Reddy and Mr. J. Suresh Kumar of Physics
Department for their consistent and unstinted co-operation in the present thesis compilation, to all of them I am highly indebted to.

I am very much delighted to thank Dr. G. Munirathnam, General Secretary, RASS, Tirupati and Child Development Project Officer, Nellore ICDS Projects for their kindness and cooperation by permitting me to collect the data from the beneficiaries, local leaders and project personnel.

I express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to all the respondents of the present study, who have cheerfully co-operated and helped me in collecting the field data successfully.

I would like to thank the library authorities of NIRD, Hyderabad and NIPCCD, New Delhi for permitting me to make use of their library facilities during the present investigation.

I wish to place it on record, the help and ambitious encouragement rendered affectionate father (Late) N.N. Munilokaiah and my mother Smt. N.N. Nageswaramma in making my endeavors successful at every stage of my academic career.

I indeed do not find more words to acknowledge the heartfelt cooperation and helpful involvement which I had received from my husband Dr. L. Rama Moorthy, Associate Professor, Dept. of Physics, S.V. University, without whose encouragement I could not have done my research work as has been scheduled. I greatly appreciate my loving and much attached children Chi. L. Raga Divya and Chi. L. Venkat Chaitanya for their tender and cheerful help shown towards me.

Last but not the least, I would like to thank Smt. B. Padmaja for typing the thesis skillfully and neatly.
