ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The researcher wish to express her profound sense of gratitude to her guide, Dr. John Dickie Sams, M.A., M.Litt., Ph.D., Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Madras Christian College, Tambaram, Madras for professional guidance, expert help and useful suggestions to complete this research work. The researcher is extremely thankful for all his encouragement and acts of generosity.

The researcher is deeply grateful to her Co-guide, Dr. Gomathi Mani, M.A., M.Ed., Ph.D., Reader, Department of Adult and Continuing Education, University of Madras for her invaluable help and expert guidance throughout the period of this research work.

The researcher is greatly indebted to Dr. Mrs. Joyce M. Scott, Founder-Director, Literacy India Trust, Madras who influenced, inspired and challenged the life of researcher to undertake this work. She records her deep appreciation and thanks for all the encouragement given by her during the period of research.

The researcher is extremely grateful to Dr. William Scott, Founder-General Director, India Bible Literature, Madras for enabling moral and financial support. But for his help, it would not have been possible for the researcher to complete the work.
The researcher wants to record her sincere thanks and appreciation to Dr. R. Gomez, M.Th., B.T., Ph.D. (Germany) for reading the manuscript and for making helpful comments and suggestions.

The researcher gratefully acknowledges the help rendered by Dr. Govinda Rajan, Professor, Department of Statistics, Madras Christian College, Tambaram, Madras for the computerised data analysis of the field survey.

The researcher deeply appreciates the cooperation given by the Adult Education Project Officers, Mr. J.P. Solomon, Mr. John Selvaraj and Mr. Marla Selvam from the districts of Coimbatore and South Arcot respectively during the survey of the adult learners. Especially she is thankful to Mr. J.P. Solomon who has been instrumental for the researcher to join the Ph.D. course.

The researcher owes a great deal to the Animators and the Neoliterates of the field study for their sincere cooperation during the data collection and thanks them specially.

The researcher also wants to appreciate and thank the senior researcher, Dr. Elias M. and the fellow-researcher, Mr. Villi for their timely help.

The researcher wish to thank the well wishers like Rev. C. Kamalakar and Dr. Mrs. Naseem Akthar, Mrs. Shanta Kingston and Ms. Anitha Rani who encouraged her from time to time to complete the research study.