ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks and gratitude to Dr. N. Lalitha, Reader in Rural Development, Department of Rural Development, Gandhigram Rural University, Gandhigram for her valuable guidance, constructive suggestions and continued facilitation throughout the course of the study. Interactions with Dr. Lalitha at all stages of this work unfolded many insights to me on how to take forward this study and led to stimulation of thinking at a higher order. Sparing her valuable time, she has offered her help to me at every stage of the study.

I convey my thanks to Dr. N. Narayansamy, Faculty in charge, Faculty of Rural Development, Gandhigram Rural University, Gandhigram for his valuable support and continuous encouragement throughout the study.

I am grateful to Dr. A. Suriakandhi, Professor and Head, Department of Adult Continuing Education and Extension, Gandhigram Rural University, the member of the Doctoral committee for her help and guidance during the study period.

I thank Dr. Ramachandran, Professor, Department of Entrepreneurship, Gandhigram Rural University, Dr. Dhulasi Birundha Varadarajan, Professor and Head, Department of Environmental Economics, School of Economics, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai and Dr. David Rajasekar, Professor and Head, Department of Agricultural economics, Agricultural College and Research Institute, Tamilnadu Agricultural University, Madurai for their guidance in planning the research methodology.

I am thankful to the Branch managers, Micro finance experts, Government project officials, AGMs of NABARD, LDMs, NGOs, SHG leaders and SHG members for their active co-operation in responding during the study and their valuable feedback, which enabled me to complete the study as planned.

I record my sincere thanks to our bank authorities, for sanctioning the sabbatical leave to me for completing this research study.

N. JEYASEELAN.