ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Words are too feeble to express my deep sense of appreciation and gratitude to Dr. A.S. Sethi Professor and Chairman, Department of Psychology Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla for his sincere supervision and invaluable suggestions. Under his benevolent guidance and scholarly supervision the present study was undertaken, executed and accomplished. His sympathetic attitude and unique encouragement throughout and at every stage of my research work were both of significant assistance and inspiration to me.

I owe my special thanks to the teaching staff and office staff of Psychology Department H.P.U. for their encouragement and inspiration. I am highly obliged to Dr. S.K. Mahendru, Computer Department Punjab University Chandigarh for his kind help in data-analysis. I am also thankful to Mr. Mukesh and other staff of computer-sciences, H.P.U. for their help in data-computation.

My thanks are also extended to the principals, staff and students of Colleges and Departments of H.P.U. Shimla for their co-operation in data collection.

Special mention must also be made to the librarian and other staff of I.G. Medical College, Shimla for their timely help during my research.

My thanks are also due to all my friends whose co-operation at various steps made it possible to complete the data collection.
Timely suggestions and guidance in the completion of the research work by Dr. Mrs. Asha Sethi of Punjab University is gratefully acknowledged.

I am also grateful to my mother, brothers and sister for inspiring me in the conception and execution of this research work.

A word of apology and thanks I definitely owe to Miss Surita and Mr. Neel Chand who had to bear with my all engrossing preoccupation with studies.

I deem it significant as well as pertinent to thank all the authors and the research scholars whose work helped me to complete the present research.

I can not forget to extend my personal thanks to Alpha Reprographics, Summer Hill Shimla-5 for typing this manuscript with all exactitude.
