ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. S. B. Dandin, Director, Central Sericultural Research and Training Institute, Mysore who guided me throughout my research period. His motivation, hard work timely ideas has helped me to complete my work successfully.

I am ever grateful to Mr. Joy Oomen, I.A.S. Member secretary, Central Silk Board, Bangalore for moral support during research period.

I am immensely indebted to Dr. S. Jayaraj, Chairman, SJRF, Research Foundation, Chennai, and former Vice- chancellor, TNAU, Coimbatore whose timely support to work on integrated nutrient management (INM) in mulberry under traditional area of Karnataka. It is virtue of his timely suggestion, which enabled me to complete the research work.

I am also highly thankful to Prof. Srinivas Reddy and Dr. Subrmanyam, for their encouragement and help rendered as chairman Board of studies Department of Sericulture, Mysore University, Mysore.

The continuous support and help given to me by Dr. T. M. Veeraiah, Joint Director, regional sericultural Research Station, Kodathi, Bangalore for which, I acknowledge my sincere thanks.

I should not forget Dr. Manjunath, Reader of Department of Sericulture, Mysore University, Mysore for motivating me with full moral support during my research period.

Special thanks are due to continuous support and timely help in completing my thesis writing and suggestion extended to me by Dr. P. K. Das, senior research officer, Agronomy section, CSRTI, Mysore.
Thanks are also due to Dr. Mallikarjunappa, R. S. Division chief, Moriculture Karnataka State Sericulture Research and Development Institute, Bangalore for his suggestions and guidance throughout my research studies.

I owe my thanks to Dr. Khodanda Ramaiah, Dr. Sharma, Dr. Muniratnam Reddy, Dr. Choudhary, and Dr. Bogesha, K. Senior Research Officers of Physiology, Mulberry Pathology, Soil Science, and Agronomy sections and all the sections technical staff CSRTI, Mysore for their help.

Thanks are due to Dr. Rama Mohana Rao, Senior research officer, Sri. Guru Prasad and Manjunatha, Senior Research fellows (working as SRFs), Research Extension Centre Madivala, Kolar, Mrs. Shantala, Senior Research officer and staff Sericulture and Moriculture sections of regional Sericultural Research Station, Kodathi, Bangalore for the assistance extended during my studies.

The help extended to me by Madam Rekha Assistant Director (Statistics) in statistical analysis of the data is sincerely acknowledged.

The encouragement, which was made available to me by my family members, is profusely acknowledged.

Lastly I thank all the individuals whose names could not be placed here but have directly or indirectly helped me in completing my research work.