

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I express my deep sense of gratitude, indebtedness and thankfulness to my learned and worthy supervisor Dr. Yudhvir S. Dahiya, Professor, Department of Economics, M.D. University, Rohtak for his scholarly guidance and valuable help in completing this study. He guided me at every step and went through the manuscript very carefully, making valuable comments and suggestions. I am specially thankful to Dr. Neelima Dahiya, Professor and Head, Department of History, M.D. University, Rohtak for her constant encouragement.

I am grateful to the Head and other staff members of the Department for every suggestion and help they rendered to me during the course of this study.

It gives me pleasure to record my appreciation toward my friends Jaibir Hooda, D.P. Kularia, B.S. Chugh, Rishi Chaudhary, Rajpal for giving timely help and moral support in completing my study.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to the M.D. University, Rohtak for awarding me research fellowship.

I thankfully acknowledge the staff members of libraries of M.D. University, Rohtak; J.N. University, Delhi; and Delhi School of Economics for providing required literature of my study.

I am also very thankful to the staff members of Statistical Department, Chandigarh and District Statistical Department, Rohtak for providing me the concerned informations.

Further, I do not know how to express my grateful appreciation for the contribution of my parents, younger brother, Uttam Singh and specially elder brother Yodhvir Singh toward the fulfilment of this dissertation. Had they not taken up the entire burden of domestic responsibilities on themselves and extended the needed financial assistance, this task, in fact, would have proved very much difficult.

Last but not the least I am thankful to M/s Arora Electrostat, Rohtak for typing the manuscript neatly.
