Acknowledgements

Taking a research programme from concept to final report, involve many stages and the associating people's support. It has happened here also and I have many to thank for their help during this endeavor of mine.

Dr. S.A. Faruqui, Principal Scientist (Ag. Entomology), Indian Grassland and Fodder Research Institute Jhansi, my supervisor for this project, provided all the conceptual foundation for this work. I am deeply indebted to him for his personal support, active participation and his professional congruence throughout this study.

I take this opportunity to thank Dr. K.C. Pandey, Principal Scientist, Dr. B.K. Bhadoria, Principal Scientist and Dr. Ch. Padamavathi, Scientist, for their support and help during the course of this study.

I am grateful to the authorities of Indian Grassland and Fodder Research Institute, Jhansi, for kindly allowing me to join as a researcher at this unique institution. I would be failing in my duties if I do not acknowledge the kind help and support received from Dr. P.S. Pathak, Director IGFRI, Dr. R.N. Choubey, Head, Crop Improvement Division and Dr. S. N. Zadoo, Principal Scientist, throughout the course of this study. I would also like to thank all the Scientist and staff of Plant Protection Unit for their help and encouragements.

Dr. U.P. Singh, Principal Scientist and Dr. R.K. Bhatt, Sr. Scientist, have provided the cowpea germplasm/seed for this study. Scientists-in-Charges at AICRP (FC) Centres at GAU, Anand, TNAU, Coimbatore, Ch.CSHAU, Hisar have provided cowpea seeds of the varieties developed at those centres. I would like to thank them all for their considerate help without which this research would not have been possible.

My friends and seniors have contributed in many ways during the course of this study. Mrs. Vidyottama Saraiya, Dr. Gazala Rizvi, Dr. Reena Singh, Sanjeev Srivas and Kuldeep Dwivedi deserve a special mention of my deep sense of gratitude for their untiring efforts.

I am also very much thankful to the family members of Dr. Faruqui, whose affection, care, and moral support throughout the research work.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not put to record my most heartfelt gratitude and sense of indebtedness to my affectionate father Mr. R.P. Mishra and mother Mrs. S.D. Mishra, who were committed to my education and without whose encouragements, moral and financial support, this achievement of mine would not have been possible. At this moment I cannot forget the efforts of my loving brother Gaurav Mishra who was always available for support and help throughout the course of my studies.

At this moment it is difficult not to pen the sincere and affectionate wishes of my departed sister Mrs. Bandana Tripathi, who till her last breath encouraged me to complete this degree. I wish she was with me to see the fruits of her cherished desire.

Last but not least I owe my special thanks to Vijay Mishra, whose affection, care and tremendous inspiration has boosted up my energy and interest under every circumstances and has helped me in compiling this research work.

Yachana Mishra
(Yachana Mishra)