LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1.1 Three basic concepts of environmental education and their interconnections

Figure 1.2 Figure showing ways and means of imparting environmental education
(adapted from Satapathy, 2007)

Figure 1.3 Multi-disciplinary model to teach Environmental Sciences
(adapted from Satyapathy 2007)

Figure 4.1 Frequency distribution of pre-service elementary school teacher’s opinion on their environmental awareness

Figure 4.2 Frequency distribution of in-service elementary teacher’s opinion on their environmental awareness

Figure 4.3 Frequency distribution of pre-service secondary school teacher’s opinion on their environmental awareness

Figure 4.4 Frequency distribution of in-service secondary school teacher’s opinion on their environmental awareness

Figure 4.5 Box plot showing the mean, mode and three quartile range (25, 50 and 75%) alongwith whiskers giving 5% and 95th percentiles of the environmental awareness scores among pre and in-service primary and secondary school teachers selected in the present study

Figure 4.6 Frequency distribution of pre-service elementary school teacher’s opinion on their attitude towards environment

Figure 4.7 Frequency distribution of in-service elementary school teacher’s opinion on their attitude towards environment
Figure 4.8 Frequency distribution of pre-service secondary school teacher’s opinion on their attitude towards environment

Figure 4.9 Frequency distribution of in-service secondary school teacher’s opinion on their attitude towards environment

Figure 4.10 Box plot showing the mean, mode and three quartile range (25, 50 and 75%) alongwith whiskers giving 5% and 95\textsuperscript{th} percentiles of the attitude towards environment scores among pre and inservice primary and secondary school teachers selected in the present study.