LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1: Theory of Reasoned Action Framework (Fishbein and Ajzen, 1975) ......................... 30
Figure 2: Theory of Planned Behavior Framework (Ajzen, 1991) ........................................... 32
Figure 3: Decomposed model of Theory of Planned Behavior Framework (Shah and Fang, 2004) .............................................................................................................................. 33
Figure 4: Technology Acceptance Model Framework (Davis, 1989) ........................................ 34
Figure 5: Proposed Research Framework ................................................................................ 40
Figure 6: Map of Ajmer, Rajasthan, India .................................................................................. 56
Figure 7: Justification of Sample Size (Krejcie & Morgan, 1970) ............................................. 58
Figure 8: Response Bias Analysis: Demographic Data ............................................................... 85
Figure 12: Descriptive Analysis of Demographics of Respondents ........................................... 91
Figure 13: Classification of Respondents on the basis of gender .............................................. 91
Figure 14: Classification of Respondents on the basis of age .................................................... 92
Figure 15: Classification of Respondents on the basis of education level ............................... 93
Figure 16: Theoretical Framework for present research ............................................................ 95
Figure 17: Scree Plot of the ten variables .................................................................................. 111
Figure 18: Framework for technology diffusion to enhance financial inclusion under MGNREGS ............................................................................................................................................. 146