ACKNOWLEDGMENT

This thesis is the ultimate product of my arduous and long journey to obtain my goal. I have not traveled in a vacuum in this journey. This thesis has been kept on fast-track and its completion has been possible with the support and encouragement of numerous people which includes my well wishers, friends and various institutions. At the end of my thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

At this moment of accomplishment, first of all I bow my head humbly before the Almighty Allah. I have accomplished this huge task with His blessings only. His mercy was with me throughout my life and ever more in this study. I thank Him for enlightening my soul with the respected love and compassion for the other human beings and allowing me to enter the field of Human Rights, where I could practice this desire.

I express deep sense of gratitude and thankfulness to my supervisor Prof. S. Naheed Murtaza Khan, ex-Chairperson, Department of Political Science, AMU, Aligarh. She has helped me at each and every point of my research work with patience and enthusiasm. I am much indebted to her for inspiring guidance, affection, generosity, support and everlasting enthusiasm throughout the tenure of my research work. Under her guidance, I successfully overcame many difficulties and learned a lot. She has taught me, both consciously and unconsciously, how to become a good researcher. I appreciate all her contributions of time and ideas to make my research experience productive and stimulating. The joy and enthusiasm she has for her research, was contagious and motivating for me during the tough times in this research pursuit. I am also thankful for the excellent example she has provided as a successful woman Political Scientist and Professor.
I am indebted to Prof. A. R. Vijapur, Chairman, Department of Political Science, for all his co-operation, guidance and support during the course of my study.

I owe my sincere thanks to my esteemed teacher, Prof. M. Murtaza Khan, ex-Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences and ex-Chairman, Department of Political Science, who has always been a constant source of inspiration and support. I also extend my profound thanks to all other teachers of the Department of Political Science whose valuable guidance and good wishes helped me considerably in the pursuit of my work.

I would like to record my special thanks and deep gratitude to Prof. Mohd. Muzammil, Department of Economics, University of Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh for his support. His wide knowledge and logical way of thinking have been of great value for me. His understanding, encouragement and personal guidance have provided a good basis for the present work.

I am grateful to staff members of the Libraries of A.M.U., Aligarh; Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; Lucknow University, Lucknow; Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow; Seminar Library, Faculty of Law, A.M.U, Aligarh; Centre for Women’s Studies, A.M.U, Aligarh; State Council of Educational Research and Training (SCERT), Lucknow; National University of Educational Planning and Administration (NUEPA), New Delhi; National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT), New Delhi for their generous assistance, co-operation and extending all possible help and kind support in providing me access to the relevant material from time to time.

I extend my deep appreciation to my friends Naseem, Mridula, Umama, Naila and Huma for their co-operation and encouragement during the entire research period and special thanks for the help they provided at the final stage of the work.
Where would I be without my family? My parents deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My Father, Mr. Ali Anisuddin Akbar and my Mother Mrs. Tauseeq Fatema, in the first place are the persons who put the fundamentals to my learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child and sincerely raised me with their caring and gentle love. Without their blessings, inspiration, motivation and understanding it would have been impossible for me to finish my research work. I can not skip thanking to my Abba, Mr. Zahiruddin Akbar for his everlasting love and prayers that really gave me the strength to complete this thesis. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not put on record my wholehearted gratitude to my beloved elder brothers, Dr. Mustafa Ather and Dr. Murtaza Athar for their unconditional support and co-operation that always helped me in combating the hurdles which came during the course of this research and kept me at my work. I also express my heartfelt thanks to my elder sister and best friend, Mrs. Saiyyeda Athar, whose love and care has always been a constant pillar of strength throughout my academic pursuit.

At last, I do not know how to begin with saying thank to my supportive, encouraging, and patient husband, Dr. Arshad Ali Jafri, whose faithful support during the final stages of the preparation of this thesis is so appreciable. I thank him for everything, for being so understanding and for putting up with me through the toughest moment of my life. Thank you.

(Rashida Ather)