ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I wish to express my sincere and profound gratitude to my esteemed teacher Dr. K. E. Garg, M. D., Professor and Head of the Department of Pharmacology, Medical College, Rohtak, under whose guidance I had the privilege to work. The execution of this project would not have been possible but for his keen interest and constant encouragement. I am indebted to him for his invaluable guidance and inspiration during the course of this study.

I am particularly grateful to Dr. Sharan Sudhir, M. D., Reader in Pharmacology, Medical College, Rohtak, for the initiation of this project. I gratefully acknowledge her wise counsels and immense help offered cheerfully in giving a practical shape to this project.

I am thankful to Prof. David Lavie, Ph.D., Department of Organic Chemistry, The Weismann Institute of Science, Rehovot, Israel; and his associates especially Dr. Vincent Vande Velde and Dr. P. Atchuta Ramaiah for determination of the various spectra of different compounds isolated by us and for contributing in the interpretation of the spectra by comparison with known withanolides.

My thanks are also due to my reverend teachers Dr. C. K. Atal, Ph.D., Director, Regional Research Laboratory, Jammu Tawi and Dr. K. L. Khanna, Ph.D., Ex-Reader in Pharmacognosy, Panjab University, Chandigarh (presently in U.S.A.) who confirmed the identity of the fruits used for the present study.
I owe my thanks to Dr. Mathew Suffness, Ph.D., Acting Chief, Natural Products Branch, Division of Cancer Treatment, National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, U.S.A. for screening the withanolide for antitumor activity. I am thankful to Dr. (Mrs) B. Arora, M.D., Reader in Pathology, Medical College, Rohtak, for extending help while carrying out histopathological studies.

My thanks are also due to all the learned referees who have reviewed our papers out of this project and whose useful suggestions have been incorporated in the manuscript.

I express my gratitude to all other staff members of the department for their help and healthy criticism of the work at various stages. I am thankful to entire Laboratory Staff of the department for their help during laboratory work. Mr. L.K. Aghi, Mr. Kumar and Mr. P.N. Jain, deserve my sincere thanks for the artistic, photographic work and typing of the manuscript respectively.
