ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At this ecstatic time of presenting my dissertation, I find myself unable to elucidate in words my genial feelings of indebtedness and unfeigned gratefulness to my esteemed teacher and guide, Dr. (Mrs.) Madhu Nagla, Professor, Department of Sociology, M.D. University, Rohtak for her constructive and ever available guidance, incessant inspiration and valuable suggestions at all the stages of this research. I find myself highly fortunate and gratefully privileged to have worked under her supervision. Her enlightening storehouse of vast knowledge, farsightedness, eloquence and above all mastery over the subject inspired me throughout my way to complete this challenging task.

I express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Jitender Prasad, Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, M. D. University, Rohtak for his encouragement and timely suggestions.

My sincere thanks are due to the other teachers – Dr. Khazan Singh, Professor; Dr. S.R. Ahlawat, Professor; Dr. U.K. Awasthi, Professor; Dr. Kanwar Chauhan, Professor; Dr. Desraj, Reader, Dr. Neerja Ahlawat and Dr. Supriti, Lecturer, Department of Sociology, M. D. University, Rohtak for their kind suggestions and cooperation.

Finally, I must convey my deepest affection and appreciation to my parents, in-laws, especially my husband Mr. Sunil Rai for their keen sense of understanding and affection of my son Akshat in bringing me at this apex.

Last but not the least, I fully acknowledge the financial assistance extended by University in the shape of U.R.S.

Special thanks are also due to all my respondents whose co-operation made the present study possible.

I am also thankful to Mr. Raj Kumar Pahwa for having done the computer typing work in very careful manner indeed.
