Acknowledgements

I may never have undertaken without the keen encouragement from my teacher and Ph.D. guide, Prof. Shikhar Kr. Sarma. He often motivated and guided me in the right direction when I wasn’t certain of which path to investigate. I acknowledge his significant contribution to my Ph.D. studies from the bottom of my heart.

I would like to thank Prof. Anjana Kakakti Mahanta and all other persons from the Department Of Computer Science, Gauhati University for their help and support. I would also like to thank various persons of LCB College and Department of IT, Gauhati University for encouraging me in this PhD work.

I am thankful to all my dear friends and colleagues who helped me in various situations during this research period.

Further, I would like to appreciate my parents and other family members’ inspirations and many sacrifices they have made for this PhD work. My father’s inspiration and support played an important role to continue this PhD work.
