CONTENTS

Chapter-1 : Consciousness of Death : Definition and Characteristics :

Death : an approach to unravel its mystery,
Etymology of the word 'death', its meaning and its sense, meaning of death in English diction,
Freedom from the fear of death, Death : In the opinion of medical science, connotation of the word 'death'. The consciousness of death (Mrityu Bodh), Mrityu Bodh : An Indian approach, Mrityu Bodh, A Western Approach, Mrityu Bodh - Some other views, question of suicide, existentialism or thought on death - Philosophy in psychology, European existentialism and Hindi literature. Mrityu Bodh - Abstract and its features. Important characteristic of Mrityu Bodh.

Chapter-2 : Ajneya : Life, personality and literary works :

Birth and family, Education, Ajneya as a revolutionary, joining service, search for livelihood and foreign trips, marriage and conjugal life. Ajneya as a person (a) Man and Society (b) Man and Nature (c) His concept of human values and freedom (d) Sense of Humour, whether he was an atheist!, Ajneya's works, Ajneya's view on death, Life and Death: Two aspects of a same coin, Parlaukik (Metaphysical) thought of Ajneya. Epilogue, Mrityu Bodh.

Chapter-3 : Psychological fiction of Hindi literature and Ajneya:

(b) Psychological story, Emergence, development and Ajneya's place, The place of Ajneya in the development of Hindi psychological fiction, the place of Ajneya in regard to the development of Hindi novel, Ajneya's place in the development of Hindi Story, Epilogue.
Chapter-4 : Consciousness of Death in the Novels of Ajneya:

Characteristics of consciousness of death and Ajneya's novels — Death and contemplation of death, deliberation on God, Humanistic Reality and truth, Insignificance, feeling of Void or Emptiness, restlessness, alienation, circumstance, time-boundness. Other characteristics of consciousness of death in Ajneya's novels — Terror, Loneliness, irrelevance, independence of the individual.

Chapter-5 : Consciousness of Death in the short stories of Ajneya:

Conclusion : Consciousness of death remains the main inspiration.

Bibliography :