ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

For this work my foremost thanks go to my supervisor Dr. Manmohan Kumar, who suggested this interesting and unique topic. I am equally indebted to Dr. P.L. Gupta, a prominent Numismatist and Shri A.K. Jha, Ex. Director of Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies, Nasik for providing me good library facilities and practical study of the coins during the workshop period.

I also render due thanks to Prof. (Mrs.) Neelima Dahiya, Head, Department of History and other teaching staff of the Department for providing me the necessary help.

My special thanks are due to Dr. K.V. Subbaram for going through the manuscript and making several valuable suggestions.

I am thankful to Lala Hansraj Gupta of Karnal for providing me some original coins and Sh. R.D. Bhatt for the photography of the coins.

I am also thankful to Sh. G.B. Sharma and Dr. (Mrs.) Geeta Manmohan for valuable suggestion and cooperation.

Thanks are due to the staff members of libraries of M.D. University, Rohtak Archaeological Survey of India, National Museum, Delhi University, Kurukshetra University, Banaras Hindu University and the American Institute of Indian Studies Centre for Art and Archaeology, Ram Nagar, Varansi for providing me all facilities for the completion of my thesis.

I also express my gratefulness to this work was financially supported by the Gopaldas-Guladavadi Memorial Trust Fellowship awarded by Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies, Anjaneri Nasik, for the year 1994-95 and M.D. University was awarded the University Research fellowship for two year i.e. Mar. 1995 to October, 1997. I am thankful to the Director of the Institute for not supplied the photography and their details of the coins but also allowed me to include them in my thesis.

I express my warm appreciation and thanks to my parents and other family members, friends and colleagues for their affection, cooperation and good wishes which made me feel energetic and inspired. Above all, I express my gratitude to all the scholars mentioned by name in thesis or otherwise whose work has benefited me directly or indirectly.

Mr Harish Malik (Amar Computer) is instrumental in giving my thesis in its presentable form. I am extremely grateful for the care and discerning eye-he rose above the script to meet deadlines and never failed me.
