ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I bow my head in gratitude to the Lord Almighty for the wisdom and grace, He has showered upon me in the successful completion of this research project.

I am deeply indebted to my research advisor Dr.R.Shankar, M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D., Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirapalli, for his most valuable guidance and research advice. He has contributed much to my thinking, analyzing and interpreting the data. He gave me complete freedom to present my thoughts in my own way. He took initiative in inculcating research thoughts on my efforts and helped me a lot to learn throughout the process of this research project. I owe much to his untiring efforts, meticulous guidance and scholarly remarks on the work at all the stages to make this dissertation a success.

It is my duty to thank Dr.R.Ravanann, Department of statistics, Presidency College, Chennai for his help in statistical analysis.

I gratefully acknowledge the timely help extended by Ms.N.Sartaj Fathima during the data collection process.

My thanks are due to Mr.V.D.Balaji for his timely support towards the completion of my thesis.
I am bound to thank my family members who have been the most reliable, inspiring and helping factors whenever I was in low spirits especially my mother Mrs.V.Rajeswari, my father Mr.S.Vadivel, my brother Mr.V.Vijay and my aunt Mrs.N.Saroja.

A very special word of appreciation to my beloved sister Ms.V.Jaisee Suvetha for her support in completing this work and for her occasional admonitions which really gave me a ‘real push’ to complete this thesis.
