ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is blessing of almighty that I am surrounded by many extraordinary people in my life. It would not be possible for me to do what I do, without them and their unconditional well wishes for me. I am deeply grateful to all who have helped me in the shaping of my ideas, aided in making this work done and encouraged me to patiently do the whole work.

My happiest task is to thank the omnipresent almighty, my parents my Guide, Friends, Acquaintances and Relatives who encouraged, inspired and in general kept me in line during my research work.

I extend my deep and sincere thanks to Dr. Chandra Singh, Reader, L.N. Mishra Institute of Economic Development & Social Change, Patna, whose intellectual guidance, invariable & unconditional support, timely and critical evaluations of my progress towards my research and continuous encouragement made it possible for me to work on this topic. Only under his leading lights, inspirational guidance and supervision this thesis could take a definite shape.

I must offer special thanks to Dr. S.D. Singh, Reader, L.N. Mishra Institute of Economic Development and Social Change, Patna, as whenever I felt stressed in doing my research work, he always stand with me and keep my moral high and supported me in all worldly possible way.

I have no words to express my feelings and acknowledge Dr. A.L. Chakraborty, Reader, Patna University, whose unconditional blessings, motivation and guidance were my strength in all the ways of thesis work. My sincere thanks are due to Dr. S.K. Singh, University Professor, Patna University, for his excellent guidance in giving present shape to this thesis. My thanks are also due to Dr. R.N. Singh, Retd. Professor, R.A.U., and Dr. S. N. Nandkuliyar, H.O.D., Faculty of Management Studies, Magadh University, for his moral support.
