Acknowledgements

First and foremost, I would like to thank "the almighty" for enabling me to complete my research work successfully. His mercy and blessings accompanied me a great deal all throughout.

It is my privilege to express my indebtedness & gratitude to my guiding teacher, Prof. Dr. Y. T. Jasrai, Head, Department of Botany, School of Sciences, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad for giving me an opportunity to undertake this course under his supervision and being the torch bearer throughout my research. Without him, it would not have been possible for me to see this world with a correct scientific vision.

I would like to acknowledge and appreciate Dr. Archana Mankad, Dr. Hitesh Solanki and Dr. Pandya for their valuable support towards the execution of my work.

My heartfelt thanks go to Dr. Pradeep Verma for his support and care during the crucial work. We not only shared information and knowledge but laughed and shared the difficult moments of life and research together.

I also acknowledge Nirali, Roshani, Riddhi and Vilas who worked with me during my research period. Working together with them was a wonderful experience and without combined approach and efforts either the beginning or completion of this work would haven't had materialized. My heartfelt thanks to Milan for his support and care. His company and help gave my work a better perspective.

I thank Prof. Dr. M. N. Patel for guiding me in statistics and making my data more strong and meaningful. My sincere gratitude to Dr. Aman (Anand University) and other research students for their support and cooperation coz without their guidance I would have not been able to justify my data for molecular work.
Rome was not built in a day & not at all by a single person. So is my work which is accomplished by help from Dr. K. R, Kranthi, CICR, Nagpur. Words cannot truly express the regards which i hold for him. I thank him for all his concern about my research work & tireless advices, help & cooperation rendered during my work.

I cannot forget to appreciate how much our Laboratory officers, technicians and operators have been helpful to me. I personally thank Pallavi, Fatima, Prakash, Sanjay, Ashok bhai, Rohit, Ajay, Bhikhabhai and all others who cannot be forgotten for their moral support and encouraging words.

I also thank the whole teaching and non teaching staff of Botany Department for rendering their generous help all throughout my sojourn as a research student at the department.

I heartily thank all the scientists who provided me with all the reprints & research articles on time, whenever i requested.

I feel lack of words to express my appreciation to all my friends, Dr. Pradeep, Utkarsh, Akishek Mehta, Abhishek Purani, Nilesh, Nirav, Sandeep, Bhargav, Brigesh, Amit and all other who made my life blossom even in hard days and stood with me in all circumstances.

Life without love is like an incomplete sentence & my sentence of life can never be completed without my wife Dr. Anshita and my li’ll angel Jia. Their love, affection, faith and patience gave me inspiration to never give up even at the most critical phases of my life. I really thank her from the bottom of my heart for his unselfish and technical support without which I was actually incomplete.
Last but not the least, I can never find words enough to thank my parents Mr. Jayanti Patel & Mrs. Savita Patel as well as my in-laws Dr. Ramesh Purohit, Mrs. Manju Purohit. Their patience, love and care has always given me the strength to work and to carry on in both good as well as bad times of my life. Be it success or failure, their support and trust in me has always been my strength to work hard & to bring the best out of me. I owe each and every accolade of my life to them.

My hearty thanks goes to Bharat Bhai, Hiral Bhabhi, Amisha Di, Rajukumar and tiny brats of my family- Bonisha, Soha and Ansh for being so patient with me and helping me to get what I aimed & desired so much in my life. I thank my beloved brother in law, Niral Rajpurohit, his wife Niyati Rajpurohit and Daivik for extreme love they showered, their encouraging words and moral support throughout my work.

Lastly, I thank my my grandparents Late. Shyamalbhai Patel, Bhikhiba, my naniji Kankuba, my grandfather and grandmother in law- Late Dhansingh Purohit and Mrs. Rama Purohit without whose blessing and constant prayers I was incomplete.

NAIMESH PATEL
