**********************************************************************************
I pay my obeisance, to my esteemed guide Prof. Rama Mitra, M.S., D.G.O., Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, who with her unfathomed knowledge and experience, canny precision and untiring zest for work, guided me unflinchingly throughout this humble venture. Her timely and constructive criticism, painstaking guidance and above all a benevolent attitude provided me the desired impetus for the present work.

My profound gratitude and indebtedness is due to Dr. (Mrs) S. Longia, M.D., Reader in Paediatrics, who with her vast knowledge and experience took great pains in guiding this work. Her valuable guidance and critical analysis rendered ungrudgingly went a long way in the successful completion of the present work.

I am extremely grateful to Dr. Ratna, M.D., Lecturer in Pathology for her able guidance, valuable advice and constant encouragement at every juncture.

I am equally thankful to Dr. Mukesh Chandra, M.S., Lecturer in Obstetrics and Gynaecology, who willingly gave considerable time and effort in reviewing my thesis critically and fostering me greatly throughout the present work.

I take this opportunity in acknowledging my deepest gratitude to all my teachers of the Department, Dr. M. - Kapoor, M.S., Reader, Dr. S. Arora, M.S., Reader,
Dr. U. Agarwal, M.S., Lecturer, Dr. P. Dubey, M.S.
Lecturer for their keen interest and valuable help at every juncture.

My thanks are due to all my senior and junior colleagues for providing me help at all occasions.

Finally, I bestow my thesis to my parents, husband Dr. R.S. Sethi, M.D., D.C.H., Lecturer in Paediatrics and daughter Malika, who have been a great source of encouragement and inspiration in the successful completion of the present work.

Last but not the least my thanks are due to Mr. Siddiqui Ali and Mr. Rakesh Kumar Tiwari for devoting so much time in typing the manuscript neatly and faultlessly.
