ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At this ecstatic time of presenting my dissertation, I find myself unable to elucidate in words my genial feelings of indebtedness and unfeigned gratefulness to my esteemed teacher and guide, Dr. K.S. Sangwan, Professor, Department of Sociology, M.D. University, Rohtak for his constructive and ever available guidance, incessant inspiration and valuable suggestions at all the stages of this research. I find myself highly fortunate and gratefully privileged to have worked under him supervision. His enlightening storehouse of vast knowledge, farsightedness, eloquence and above all mastery over the subject inspired me throughout my way to complete this challenging task.

I also owe thanks to all the teachers of Sociology Department for their constructive suggestions and valuable help regarding my study. Specially Prof. U.K. Awasthi, Head of the Department, for his constant guidance and co-operation.

Finally, I must convey my deepest affection and appreciation to my parents, in-laws, especially my husband Mr. Vikrant Sharma for their keen sense of understanding and affection of my son Sushant and daughter Neharika in bringing me at this apex.

Last but not the least, I fully acknowledge the financial assistance extended by University Grants Commission (UGC) in the shape of U.R.S.

Special thanks are also due to all my respondents whose co-operation made the present study possible.

I am also thankful to Sh. Pahwa for having done the computer typing work in very careful manner indeed.
