ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I bow my head in gratitude to the Lord Almighty for the wisdom and grace, He has showered upon me in the successful completion of this research project.

I am immensely thankful to the Members of Management, Cauvery College for Women, Tiruchirappalli for their constant support and motivation, to undertake the Doctoral study.

I find no words to thank Dr. V. Sujatha, Principal, Cauvery College for Women, Tiruchirappalli – 18, who has been constantly encouraging me to take research work more seriously, which gave me a sound basis for successfully completing this dissertation.

I am deeply indebted to my research advisor Dr. A. Umesh Samuel Jebaseelan, M.A. (S.W.), M.A. (Eng), Ph.D., Reader in Social Work, Bishop Heber College, Tiruchirappalli for his most valuable guidance and research advice. He has contributed much to my thinking, analyzing and interpreting the data. He gave me complete freedom to present my thoughts in my own way. He took initiative in inculcating research thoughts on my efforts and his statistical sophistication has helped me a lot to learn. I owe much to his untiring efforts, meticulous guidance and scholarly remarks on the work at all the stages to make this dissertation a success.

This dissertation began and ended as part of my dream. It would not have begun if I had no concern for this unnoticed groups of children. My dream and my research work would not have been completed without the permission granted and the facilities provided and co-operation extended for this study by Mr. Jebaraj, General Secretary, Bethel Agricultural Fellowship, Danishpet, Salem and
Mr. J. Selvaraj, Co-ordinator, Rehabilitation Department, Bethel Agricultural Fellowship, Tirunelveli. I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to the caretakers and children of lifers in Danishpet, Salem & Tirunelveli for their meaningful co-operation and patience in collecting my data.

It is by bounden duty to thank Mr. S. Alwyn Reginald, M/s. M.S. Infotech Centre, Tiruchirappalli for his excellent help in statistical analysis. I am also thankful to M/s. ASP Computers, Trichy for his classic typing work and for having designed the dissertation.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not thank my academic well wishers Dr. Lena Molin, Professor, Uppsala University, Sweden, Gunbritt Sandstrom, HOD, Department of Social Welfare, Umea University, Siv-Inger Bucht, International Co-ordinator and Evelyn Grace Ehoo, Lecturer, Department of Social Welfare, Umea University, Sweden, for their emotional support and constant encouragement.

I place on record my profound sense of gratitude to Dr. Umaselvi, for her constant motivation, support and for having shouldered additional responsibilities on my behalf.

My special thanks are due to Prof. S.N. Kulandaisamy, Department of English, Former Principal of EVR College and Cauvery College for Women, Tirchy for having proof-read the thesis and for his critical review of the manuscripts and valuable comments.

I would like to thank all my colleagues and students of my department and other departments for their love and appreciation shown towards me to complete this arduous endeavour.
I gratefully acknowledge the professional help extended by Dr. E. Balaguruswamy, Psychiatrist, Balasaranya Rehabilitation Centre, Tharuvai, Tirunelvei, Tamil Nadu, during the intervention program for the children of lifers.

I am bound to thank my family members who have been the most reliable, inspiring and helping factors whenever I was in low spirits especially my mother Smt. Pushpam and Mrs. & Mr. Kalavathy Jeyaraj.

A very special word of appreciation to my beloved husband Mr. R. Santhanam Rajagopal, for his emotional support in completing this work and for his occasional admonitions which really gave me a ‘real push’ to complete this thesis.

My thanks are also due to Mr. Suresh Jeyaraj and Mr. Rajesh Jeyaraj, for all their timely support and assistance extended to me towards the completion of my thesis.

I am very much pleased with my two loveable children Subhiksha Santhanam and Snehan C. Santhanam who were indeed alienated in the II quarter of this year due to my work on the thesis. My special word of appreciation to my two children for awakening my spirit and extending support for completing this thesis.

I would prefer dedicating this thesis to the revered and fond memory of my father Late V. Sarangapani, who was a source of inspiration always to me.

S. Sankari.
