ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research work has been executed under the guidance and supervision of the most respected Professor Haji. Dr. K.E.N. NALLA MOHAMED, M.Sc., M.Phil., Ph.D., Principal (Rtd.), Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam, presently working as Principal of Mohamed Sathak Arts and Science College, Chennai. If the work has progressed to the present level, it is entirely due to the continued and multiprolonged advice received from him at all critical stages. It is a tribute to his excellent understanding in the subject while guiding this research work. I am immensely grateful to him for so generously allowing me to share the benefit of his rich professional experience in Polymer Chemistry and also for the help rendered by him at critical periods of my career.

I wish to thank Janab. S. MOHAMED ASLAM, Secretary and Correspondent of Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam for providing the necessary facilities to carry out this work in our laboratory.

I am grateful to Dr. A. MOHAMED ABDUL KHADER, Principal of Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam who had given good encouragement for this work.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. T. HIDAYATHULLA KHAN, Head of the Department of Chemistry, Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam for his kind gesture.
I am personally grateful to Dr. N.M.I. ALHAJI, Lecturer (S.G.) and Research Advisor in Chemistry, Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam who shared his invaluable time for important deliberations at various stages of this work, and for giving very useful suggestions.

I am also thankful to Mr. M. PALANIVELU, Lecturer in Chemistry, Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam for his assistance in carrying out the experiments.

Special mention must go to my colleagues (both teaching and non-teaching staff) in the Department of Chemistry of Khadir Mohideen College, Adirampattinam for their continued encouragement to me to pursue this doctoral research work.

Finally, a special word of appreciation goes to to my wife, Thahira and children, Shaik, Ashik and Ilyas for their patience through many months of evenings and weekends devoted to this work.
