Acknowledgement

Research in any stream of science needs a lot of encouragement and co-operation from various scientific institutes, government departments, individuals and friends. I wish to thank all those who were directly or indirectly involved in my ornithological arena starting from Ministry of Environment and Forest, New Delhi and Gujarat State Forest Department, Gujarat.

First of all, I wish to pay my heartiest thanks to my guide Dr. (Mrs.) S. Kalavathy, Reader, Department of Botany, for giving me full guidance, support and concern during my course of research. I sincerely thank Dr. Marcus Diepen Boominathan, M.Sc., M.Phil., PGDCSA., Ph.D., Principal, for his support and encouragement and Dr. C. Ravichandran, HoD, Department of Environmental Sciences, Bishop Heber College, Tiruchirapalli, for giving me precious and momentous suggestion during my doctoral committee presentation which became an integral part of my thesis.

I am very lucky to have Dr. S.F.Wesley Sunderraj, Senior Scientist, GUIDE, Bhuj-Kachchh, Gujarat, Dr. Justus Joshua, Manager, Ecological Studies, Foundation for Ecological Security, Anand, Gujarat, Dr. V. Gokula, Lecturer, National College, Tiruchirappalli and Dr. K. Ramesh, Wildlife Institute of India, Dehra Dun. Their meticulous guidance and constant support in analyzing and writing my thesis in a very short span of time gave me an inspiration to work hard in this field of ornithology. They are a team in a whole who were always pushing me to complete my thesis in time nonetheless being short of time to themselves. I am invariably thankful to all of them.

My heartiest thanks to Mr. Jagdeesh Rao, Executive Director, Mr. Dinesh Reddy, Dy. Director, Mr. Subrata Singh, Mr. Yash Shethia and Mr. Dharmendra Kumar Jesangbhai Chavda from Foundation for Ecological Security, Anand, for their keen interest shown towards my research and help rendered towards my study. I am indebt thankful to Mr. R. Ravindranath, who helped in all ways, toward RS-GIS part of my study including analysis of data in GIS and preparation of the final maps, in spite of his very busy work schedule.

I would like to thank Dr. Satish Kumar Sharma, Range Forest Officer, Rajasthan Forest Department, Udaipur and a well known naturalist with whom I discussed time to time and came to know about many significant information on Aravalli hills as he is very well aware of this region particularly about southern Aravalli hill system.

My special thanks rendered to Dr. K. Shivkumar, DST Scientist, and Mr. S. Jeevanandam, Research Scholar, Geology Department, National College, Tiruchirappalli for helping in getting some reference in crucial time of my thesis writing.

I am also very thankful to the various Institutes, Universities, Non-governmental organization, and Governmental Organization for providing me Library facilities. The librarians and supporting staff of the libraries of ICFRI, WII, Dehra Dun, WWF, IARI Delhi, ZSI, RSI, AFRI, CAZRI Jodhpur, SRISTI, ISRO Ahemdabad, GEER Foundation, BISAG, Gandhinagar, BNHS Bombay, ATREE Banglore, KFRI Peechi, Kerala and SACON Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu are thanked for the help rendered during my literature review.

I extend my sincere thanks to all Professors, librarians and other staff of Gurukul University-Haridwar, M. N. College-Visnagar, Science College-Taьd, North Guajart University-Patan, Gujarat University-Ahemdabad, Gujarat Agriculture University-Anand, S. P. University – V. V. Nagar, M. S. University - Baroda, South Gujarat University - Surat, Bharthidasan University - Tiruchirappalli - Tamil Nadu for their suggestion, help and support given during my visit to their institutions as part of the literature survey and discussion.

Above all my moral support was my family especially my father Mr.K.P.Kala, my bapu Dr. Justus Joshua, my elder papa & ma, Dr. Wesley Sunderraj and Mrs. Jhancy Wesley and my younger sister Miss Ranjana Kala, without their encouragement it would have been very difficult to come out from the deep ocean of tensions of completing this thesis on time. Despite this the constant support from my mother Mrs.Madhu Kala, My elder sister, Mrs. Ila Kukreti and brother-in-law Mr. Rohit Kukreti, My brother Mr.Rajeev Kala and Vineet Kala, My friends Vidhi Kukreti, Dipti Jain, My Grand Parents Mr. Joshua Wilson and Mrs. Mercy Joshua, my aunt Mrs.Jessie Aruldas were always behind me in the time of need. There are few people who had shown interest and boosted me morally include Mr.B.P.Singh, Dr.Ajay Saxena, Prof. Hari Narayan Joshi and Prof. B.D.Joshi. My whole hearted thanks to each and every one of them.
My sincere thanks to my colleagues Mr. Naresh K. Maheshwari who helped in setting up the whole text, Mr. S. Rajendra Kumar for helping me in setting up the photo plates, Mr. P. Ragunathan and Miss Smita Ranjane for boosting me up astutely. Mr. A. Shanmugasundaram and P. Suresh Kumar, Co-Research Scholars are thanked for helping in many ways during this theseis work.

Last but not least this research in the wild could not have reached to its success without the local help in Ambaji, I received in the form of good friends Mr. Ramesh Prajapati, Manager, Prajapati Bhavan, Mr. Ajay Singh, Mr. Bharat Singh, of Adhya-Shakti Photo Studio, Ambaji, our jeep divers Mr. Ramesh Thakur, Mr. Sundar Lal Suthar, Mr. Arjun Ameta and family. I am deeply thankful to them all.

Finally this work would not have been possible without my field assistant Mr. Devabhai Vansia, and Rajubhai Garsia, who supported me both, in the field work and at field station. My deepest and sincere thanks to them.

My sincere gratitude to Almighty God, my parents & well-wisher’s blessing and above all birds of wildlife arena who were always there for me during my course of research.

Thanks to you all.
