ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With profound gratitude I record my sincere appreciation to "Prof. M.VIVEKANANDAN" - "a Friend, Philosopher and Guide", my respected supervisor for his dynamic guidance, valuable suggestions, constant encouragement and who created a conducive environment wherein I could accomplish whatever little I wanted to do. He with all his patience and endurance has moulded me for which I would remain indebted.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to the Managing Director, Trichy Distilleries and Chemicals Pvt. Ltd., Sentheneerpuram, Tiruchirappalli, Tamilnadu, India for allowing me to collect the distillery wastes whenever required.

I wish to thank the faculty of the School of Life Sciences in general and the faculty of the Department of Biotechnology in particular for their encouragement.

I take the opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude to my seniors Dr. P. Agastine, Dr. S.M. Anas, Dr. (Mrs) Dorcus, Mr. Goushe Basha and my colleagues Dr. PUM. Raghavan, Mrs. Bindu Mathew, Mr. Abdul Ahmeed and Mr. Kandha Kumar for their kind help and co-operation throughout the course of this study.

I am also thankful to Mrs. M. Devatha, Assistant Professor, Department of Botany, EVR College, Tiruchirappalli for her support and hospitality.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the following institutes/organizations for the financial assistance provided to me during the course of this investigation.

1. Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli (Research Fellowship)
2. Gandhigram University, Dindugal (DST, New Delhi- Young Scientist Fellowship)
3. Department of Environment, New Delhi
4. Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi (CSIR-SRF)
I was fortunate to have a senior like Dr. VC. Saralabai. She taught me the basic techniques of research and helped me in several ways. Her care, concern and encouragement gave me the strength throughout. I affectionately extend my gratitude to her.

My warmest regards to a FEW of my friends M. Murali, A. Mohamed Abdullah, A. Saravanan, S. Girija, V. Karthikeyan and X. Nirmala for all their help in every other way. I deeply appreciate their keen sense of interest in my progress.

I owe immensely to my beloved parents without whose love, constant encouragement, keen interest, tolerance, patience, continued support and advice, this work would not have been completed. Sudha, my sister was a very great source of moral support and is the strength behind me.

“MY FRIENDS”- “a blessing in disguise” are living for the cause.
