Acknowledgement

First and foremost I praise and thank GOD Almighty who has been promising source of strength and courage, inspiration and enlightenment for me to complete this thesis.

It is with real pleasure that I record my indebtedness to the higher officials, videlicet, the Honourable Vice-Chancellor, The Registrar, The Controller of Examinations and Head, Department of Sociology, of Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for having given me an opportunity, to do my Ph.d., work in this University.

I wish to express my heart full thanks to Dr. M. Thavamani, Reader, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, who is my Research Guide, for his constructive review and positive guidance and valuable suggestions in bringing up this research work. Further, I am grateful to my respondents who have responded to my questions with all patience enabling me to undertake this study without any difficulty.

My sincere thanks are also due to the personnel of Tiruchirappalli City Corporation, for the remarkable help in providing valuable data and details of registered year-wise births and deaths during 1980-2000 and ward wise revenue and population of the year 2006-2007.

I take it as a privilege to thank to the savants and erudite scholars Dr. P. Chandran, Reader, Centre for Population Studies, Annamalai University, Chidambaram, Dr. A. Umaesh Samuel, Reader, Department of Social Work, Bishop Heber College, Tiruchirappalli and Dr. C. Venkatachalam, Senior-Lecturer, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for valuable suggestions rendered in completing this thesis.
I, being a penurious researcher and devoid of computer, desire to disclose my heartfelt gratitude to Mr. D. Jothi Venkateshan, (Ph.d.), my fellow research scholar, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli and Mr. V. Dhamodharan, M.C.A., Lab Assistant, Sri Angalaamman Engineering college, Tiruchirappalli for rendering their personal computers for more than each 2 months for analyzing the data.

My thanks are due to Mr. M. Radha Krishnan, an entrepreneur in the edible oils business, Madurai and Miss. P. Indumathi, M.S.W., Counselor, Chella Muthu Trust, Madurai, who have helped me to collect the required literature from Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai and Madurai Institute of Social Sciences, Madurai respectively.

I am also thankful to Mr. P. Kamaraj, D.C.H., Proprietor, Quality Xerox, Tiruchirappalli for charging low price per page and to Miss S. Selvamani, B.A., for enormous labour and pains she took in typing the manuscript, drawing tables and marking mistakes etc.

I gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by my wife, Mrs. R. Ponmani, M.A., D.C.A., in going through carefully the manuscript of each chapter and correcting proofs as well as opening the door with beaming while I returned to home at midnight after finishing my research work.

Ultimately, the words, namely thanks, gratitude, gratefulness and indebtedness, which are insufficient to expound my feeling on the economic and psychological supports rendered by My Parents, Mr. A. Thiagarajan and Mrs. T. Vaijayanthimala, to do this research work. Thanks a million to My Parents.
