ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset, I wish to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. R. Shankar, Professor & Head, Department of Sociology, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, for his expert guidance and invaluable help throughout the study. He gave me an absolutely free hand in choosing the topic of research, even while offering me all the assistance I needed to do so. Mere words would not sufficient to explain his persistent encouragement, advice and help extended to me to complete this research. It is very great pleasure and excellent experience working under his guidance.

I am extremely thankful to Prof. M.P. Durairaj Chief Engineer & Director (Retd.) Irrigation Management Training Institute, Tiruchirappalli for giving permission to do this Ph.D. Programme.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. P. Gomathinayagam, Project co-ordinator, Center for Water Resources, Anna University, Dr. Ismail Mohamed Iqbal, Professor, Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore and the Faculty and Staff members of Irrigation Management Training Institute, Tiruchirappalli for their invaluable suggestions and encouragement.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. A. Mohanakrishnan, Chairman, Cauvery Technical Cell, & Advisor to Government, Public Works Department, Chennai, and Dr. G. Elumalai, World Bank Consultant, Chennai, for their constant encouragement from the beginning of my research.

I am thankful to Dr. M. Thavamani, Reader in Sociology and Member of the Doctoral Committee, Dr. C. Venkatachalam, Dr. S. Iyyampillai, Dr. Chellam Balasundaram, and Dr. M. Ravichandran, the Faculty members of Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli for their constant encouragement.
I am extremely thankful to Dr. S. Janakarajan, Dr. S. Siva Subramanian, and Dr. Jayakumar all of the Madras Institute of Development Studies (MIDS), Chennai for their invaluable suggestions and for helping to specify some crucial methodological points for my research.

I wish to express my heart-felt gratitude to Mr. M. Rajendran, Librarian and Mr. K. Loganathan, Assistant Programmer, Irrigation Management Training Institute Tiruchirappalli for their valuable and continuous help at each and every stage of my research.

I am also thankful to the research scholars who have provided support at various stages of this work. Mr. P. Murugan, Mr. R. Manimohan, Mr. M. Saravanan, Mr. M. Tamilarasan and other Scholars, School of Social Sciences, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli are some important persons.

My thanks are also due to the officials of Public Works Department, Agriculture and Agricultural Engineering Department, Government of Tamil Nadu for their help in the study. I wish to gratefully acknowledge the services rendered by the various Institutions, Libraries and Documentation centers in the course of the study.

I am thankful to Mr. K. Shanmuga Vadivel, Lecturer (SG), Department of Statistics St. Joseph's College, Tiruchirappalli for sparing time in analysing the data. I am also thankful to all Farmers and other Knowledgeable persons of my study area. I am sure that without their kind co-operation this study would not have been possible at this level. I am also grateful to their open-hearted help at all stages of my data collection.

Last but not the least, I owe a great deal to my beloved Parents, Sisters and Wife, who have been my constant source of inspiration, confidence and strength. This study would not have been a success, without their unselfish and constant help.

K. VISWANATHAN.
