A MATTER OF GRATITUDE

We live in a world of independence. Age of specialization has transformed every individual a neighbour in need of support and sustenance. No man can afford to remain an island unto himself. Thus my research has been transformed in to a labour of love, through the wholehearted co-operation and guidance of experienced senior academicians, well wishers and friends all of whom deserve words in Golden Letters. Foremost among these worthies are my guide Dr. S. Palaniswamy, Head, Department of Social Work, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli. Next in order comes my university authorities who sympathetically permitted me to avail resources. The researcher express his profound and heartfelt thanks to Dr. P. Jagadeesan, Hon’ble Vice-Chancellor, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, for his fraternal interest shown in motivating me in my moments of depression and Dr. S. M. Ramaswamy, Dean, Faculty of Science, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, for personal and special interest shown in my academic progress.

My professor U. Munuswamy, Head, Department of History and Politics and Dean of Arts (retired), Layola College, Chennai to whom I am indebted in many ways for inspiration, information and for his paternal interest in my personal uplift. The researcher is also indebted to Dr. Michael M. Cernea, Resettlement Expert, World Bank for providing and permitting to use his beneficial materials and valuable suggestions. Dr. M. Thavamani, Reader in Sociology, Bharathidasan University, who served as a research committee member deserves special mention for his valuable suggestions to improve the present study. Dr. S. Iyyampilai, Reader in Economics, Bharathidasan University and Dr. Umesh Samuel, Faculty in Social Work, Bishop
Heber college, Tiruchirappalli helped me very much by making available the much needed statistical analysis.

The Gujarat intellectuals Prof. Punelaker, Senior Fellow and Dr.D.C.Sha, Fellow, Institute of Social Studies, Surat, Dr.Brijlal Chowhan, retired professor in Sociology of Rajasthan University, Dr.V.Uma, Reader, Department of Social Work, Sri Padmawathi Women University, Tirupathi, Dr. TBBSV Ramaniah, Head, Department of Social Work, Mysore University, Mysore, Prof.A.Chockanathan, Dr.J.P.Ramalingam and Prof. A. Damodaran Faculty Members, Post Graduate Department of Social Work, Sri Ramakrishna Mission Vidyalaya college of Arts and Science, Coimbatore, Dr.Selwin Stanley, Head, Department of Social work, Bishop Heber College, Tiruchirappalli, deserve special reference for periodical clarification and suggestions in upgrading the research methodology.

My thanks are also due to Dr.S.Palanivelu, retired professor of Economics, Periar E.V.R College, Tiruchirappalli for the perusal of scripts. My grateful thanks to Miss. Shenbaham and JBJ.Bindhu, my colleagues who served as guest faculties for relieving me from academic responsibilities whenever my research commitments demanded full time concentration. My former colleagues in the Tamil Nadu slum Clearance Board, Chennai such as Mr.CJ.Paul, Former Chief Community Development Officer, Mr.P.Shunmugam, community Development Officer, Mrs.K.N.Vijayanthi, Mr.S.Pandian, Mr.Hillary Ravinder, Mr. S.A.Jaganathan, Mrs.R.Buvana, Mr. R. Md.Jafurullah, Mrs.S.X.Hydwick Rosy, Mr. D.Rajendran Mr.Venkataswamy, Mr. P. Natarajan Community Development Officers, other Community officers and other staff members of the Community Development Wing,
Dr. K. P. Subramaniem, Faculty member of Department of Urban System Engineering, Anna University, Chennai, Officials of United Nations Centre for Human Settlement – Habitat, Regional Office, Chennai and Mrs. Pillai, Documentation Officer, Housing and Urban Development Corporation, Regional Office, Chennai deserve special mention for their enthusiastic support and guidance in developing the interview schedule and provision of relevant secondary sources.

Dr. Bergmans, Department of Computer Science, St. Joseph college, Tiruchirappalli, Mr. Charles, Golden Net Computers, Mr. Alwin, M.S. Automations, Mr. R. Arivazhagan, Mr. Senthil Kumar, Mr. Chandra Sekar, Mr. R. Ramesh and S. Reha Trichirappalli, deserve my sincere thanks for computer processing of the research data.

But for the ungrudging help at home from my better half and the tolerance of my little kids who often missed my company, my work would not have seen the light of the day. Mr. Palanivel, former Chief Engineer of Tamil Nadu Slum Clearance Board, Chennai deserves a special reference for suggesting the topic and explaining its significance. I immensely thank Mr. Swarn Singh IAS, former Managing Director of Tamil Nadu Slum Clearance Board, Chennai who gave the permission to proceed with the project. To all these noble souls my work will remain as a token of honour and love.

Department of Social Work, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli – 620 024. March 20, 2000
