ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The process of this master thesis was a wonderful learning experience of my academic life which is filled with challenges and Rewards. The completion of present study leads to a new beginning and a step forward towards my future.

When writing this acknowledgement, a question by famous Scottish physicist James Clark Maxwell struck to my mind, “what is done by what is called myself is, I feel done by something greater then myself in MC” The question is justifiable did I really do this. Did I really manage to get it all together? This acknowledgement provides a welcome opportunity and chance to show gratitude to the help and assistance of people who, with their intellectual insights or constructive. Criticism, other times in the form of friendship, have helped me to develop this research.

At first, I bow my head in reverence to the almighty who offered me wisdom guidance in undertaking and completing this study. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my Supervisor, Dr Ravi Sharma, Director, Jagan Institute of Management Studies, Jaipur for his valuable supervision, never ending support and encouragement during this process. I am thankful to him, that he gave me the pleasure to use his valuable comments, feedback and suggestions during the time of my working on this thesis and by that way, he has presented a new world for my further academic research.

(Aparna Jindal)
Research Scholar
Department of Management
Jagannath University
Jaipur