ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many people have directly and indirectly contributed to the completion of this thesis. I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my deep sense of gratitude to all those who have helped me during the course of study.

I acknowledge my deepest sense of gratitude to my guide Professor Alaka Buragohain, Retd. Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, Gauhati University, Guwahati, whose expert guidance and competent supervision has made it possible for me to undertake this work and to successfully complete it. Her constant inspiration and guidance kept me focused and motivated. I would like to thank Professor Narendra Lahkar, Head of the Department of Library and Information Science, Gauhati University, for extending his corporation and guidance on various aspects of my research work. I also thank Dr. Sanjay Kumar Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Library and Information Science, Gauhati University for being overtly helpful during my doctoral research.

I am indebted to the Manuscript Conservation Centre (MCC) and Library Staff particularly Mr. Dhruba Kanti Bhattacharjee, Library Assistant and Mr. Sudip Pal, bearer; of Gurucharan College, Silchar for extending their unstinted support during my research work.

I pay my heart-felt homage to late Buddindranath Borpathak of Auniati Satra, Majuli for demonstrating the ancient art of sanchi manuscript making process.

I extend my sincere thanks to all the library staff of LakshmiNath Bezbaroa Library, Dibrugarh University particularly Mr. Ranjanjyoti Sarma, Classifier Mr. Jaydeep Majumdar, Maintenance Assistant; Mr. Jayanta Taye, Maintenance Assistant; Mr. Bidyut Chutia, Maintenance Assistant and Mr. Lipu Dihingia, Bearer for their cooperation in various activities of my research work.
I pay my gratitude to Professor S. K. Baruah, Dr. Bolin Chetia, Assistant Professor; Mr. Debojeet Sahu, Research Scholar and Mr. Junaram Boithak, Lab Attendant for extending their help and support during various laboratory experiments conducted in the Department of Chemistry, Dibrugarh University.

My research work entailed many state-of-the-art experiments that had to be conducted at various laboratories of IIT Guwahati. I pay my humble thankfulness to the Head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering, IIT Guwahati, Professor Pinakeswar Mahanta for his permission to allow me to conduct the mechanical tests. Special thanks go to Mr. Sanjib Sarma, Junior Technical Superintendent for helping me with the stress-strain experiments performed on the Universal testing machine of the Strength of Materials laboratory. I owe my appreciation to Mr. Saiffuddin Ahmed, Junior Technical Superintendent for helping me with the ball-milling process in the Material Science laboratory.

I pay my deep gratitude to the Head of the Department, Department of Chemistry, IIT Guwahati, Professor Arun Chattopadhyay for his granting the necessary permission for the chemical tests. I am profusely indebted to Dr. Babulal Das, Scientific Officer, for helping me with the X-Ray Diffractometer (XRD) experiments. I also thank Mr. Aniruddha Gogoi, Junior Technical Superintendent for assisting me with the Fourier Transformed Infrared (FTIR) experiments.

I am deeply grateful to Professor Anil Kumar Saikia, Head, Central Instrument Facility, IIT Guwahati for allowing me to avail the laboratory facility. In this connection, I wholeheartedly thank Dr. Kula Kamal Senapati, Scientific Officer for helping me with the Scanning Electron Microscopy (SEM) tests.

The present study also required overseas research visits particularly to Germany, for its state-of-the-art expertise in manuscript preservation. I owe my cordial indebtedness to Mrs Myriam Krutzsch, Curator, Staatliche Museen zu
Berlin (Agyptisches Museum und Papyrussammlung) for shedding insights into various aspects of manuscript conservation and infrastructure.

I personally thank Susanne Busch, Archivist, Goethe-Schiller Archive at Weimer for demonstrating the various archival restoration processes. Dr. Joachim Ott and Iris Geisler of Thuringer Universitats- und Landesbibliothek and Conservation Laboratory, Jena (ThuLB) have been immensely helpful in providing a hands-on training on the revolutionary archival restoration processes.

For arrangement of my tours in Germany, for being my translator of German language and making my trip to Germany extremely comfortable and fruitful, I cannot fail to appreciate the opportune help of Mrs. Bettina Bohm, Mr. Christoph Bohm and Mr. Carsten Busch.

I would most sincerely extend my gratefulness to Professor K. K. Deka, Ex Vice Chancellor, Dibrugarh University, for his invaluable support and constant motivation.

I am earnestly touched by the encouragement extended by Professor A. K. Buragohain, Vice Chancellor, Dibrugarh University, towards smooth completion of my doctoral research.

I would like to devote my ardent gratitude to my late father Bhabakanta Namashudra, my mother Mrs. Maikan Namashudra, and my eldest brother Apurba Chandra Das, for their relentless inspiration and assistance throughout my early academic years. It is for them that I have reached the scholarly position where I stand today.

I also acknowledge the inspiration of all the other members of my family and also my in-laws in helping me in all possible ways whenever required.
It is inexplicable to state the contribution of my better half Mrs. Pori Das and son Master Ishaan Utpal for their enduring patience and sacrifices throughout the tenure of my work.

Every effort succeeds every endeavour triumphs in the ambience of a caring family who dream big for you continue to nurture them through thick and thin.

Utpal Das