ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, I acknowledge my genuine gratitude to the eternal Author of life. It is his amazing love and gracious sustenance that aided me throughout this long expedition.

I am immensely grateful to my guide, Dr. R. Ramesh, who guided my research work with his extensive discussions, candid evaluation, fruitful and incisive comments. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I remember with gratitude the long hours he devoted to discussing the different aspects of the thesis.

I also express my sincere thanks to the staff members of M.S. University Library; CIEFL, Hyderabad; RIE, Bangalore; British Library, Chennai; Madras University Library, Chennai and Kerala University Library, Trivandrum.

A special thanks to my family. Words cannot express how grateful I am to my mother, father, mother-in law and father-in-law, for all of the sacrifices that you’ve made on my behalf. Your prayer for me was what sustained me thus far. I thank my brothers, sisters- in law, brothers- in law, my cousin Mrs. Seema and my friends for their support in writing, and incented me to strive towards my goal. I would like to thank Mr. Shino for his help in developing the software.

Last but not least, I am greatly indebted to my devoted husband Mr. Anand L.R and my daughter Diya John. He was always there cheering me up and stood by me through the good times and bad. They form the backbone and origin of my happiness. Their love and support without any complaint or regret has enabled me to complete this Ph.D. project. I owe my every achievement to both of them.
