Karisiddappa, Professor, Department of Library & Information Science, at the Karnataka University, Dharwad in converting my thoughts into action in this thesis, pales into insignificance considering his able guidance and supportive suggestions wherever and whenever wanted. His constructive criticism in course of my professional interactions with him has always accelerated my inveterate interest in the present study. Working with him has been a great pleasure and source of inspiration.

My grateful thanks are due to Dr. J. R. Sahu, Head, IPLC Division, Regional Research Laboratory, Bhubaneswar who has provided all administrative and professional support in this endeavor of mine, while the same in no less quantum is due to my other colleagues Mr. K. K. Rao, Mr. D. P. Sandha, Mr. B. K. Dalai and Mr. M. K. Seth for their fraternal favour.

Mohanty of the Department of Sociology, Rajdhani College, Bhubaneswar for very carefully going through the draft and making his comments available.

I owe my sincere thanks to Mr. Gangadhar Mansingh and his wife Smt. Mili for their support. A friend in need Shri Mansingh has taken all possible care to remove all hurdles that came my way throughout. I am greatly indebted to all of my 335 respondents who freely and frankly expressed themselves through their questionnaire response and during my personal interviews as well.

I simply hesitate to acknowledge the combined inspiration and collaborative effort of family especially my Father and Mother, Brother and Sisters for completing this work of mine. In fact the role of my wife Jamuna, son Venkatesh and daughter Srilakshmi has been very important as they had set me totally free from household responsibilities at the peak stage of completion of this thesis. Whatever I am or my family is today, is all due to the invisible inspiration of our family God ‘Lord Mallikarjun Swamy’. I owe a lot to Him as He has always shown me the right path for right action.

Finally, I shall fail in my duty if I do not record the great help rendered by Mr. B. B. Sahoo, Mr. Sanjay Mahatab, Mr. Krishna Chand, Mr. Nirod and Mr. Prasanna Rout for word processing, page setting, final printing and binding of this work.
