ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research is the result of support, love, patience and help of a large number of people. I consider it my duty to express my profound gratitude to them all.

To Prof.B.Ramesh, Head and Dean, Department of Commerce, Goa University, my guide, for the unceasing patience, support and valuable advice that he showered on my work, that enabled me to reach this stage. I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude towards him, not only for all his assistance and support throughout my research experience, but moreover for giving me this opportunity to do this research work under his guidance.

I thank my co- guide, Dr. K.B.Subash, for his advice and help, especially during the early stages of my Ph.D. My sincere gratitude goes to Dr.I Bhanu Murthy, Principal of Damodar College, as the expert on the Faculty Research Committee, who periodically reviewed my progress and helped sharpen the focus of the study. To Dr.M.R.Patil, Reader, Vice – Principal, V.N.S Bandekar College, who was always there to help at every stage of my research work. I would also like to thank Dr.Y.V.Reddy, Reader, Department of Commerce, Goa University for his continuous support and encouragement.

This research would not have been completed if not for the help of, the principals, teaching faculty, librarians, Government Officials, industrialists, students and other staff of the various organizations and institutions visited during my research work right from the stage of data collection to data analysis and writing of the thesis. It would not be possible to mention all the names but I sincerely thank them all. Especially those who made the effort to spend time and discuss issues that gave an insight to the research.

To Dr.D.P Singh, Coordinator Reader, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai, for his willing cooperation and support during my data analysis. I also thank Dr.C.V.Joshi, and staff of the Computer Center, the Librarian and Teaching Faculty of TISS for all the cooperation and support.

I would also like to thank Dr.Hyder PSSCIVE, Bhopal for his help during the data collection phase in Bhopal. To the love and concern showered upon me by all the staff of PSSCIVE during my stay, I thank them all.

I thank all the Teaching faculty of the department of Commerce and also the department support staff, Ms. Shubangi Nagvenkar Ms. Sendra Cota and Mr. Santosh S. and also to those closely associated to the Department, Mr.Deelip Chari and Mrs. Mangala Chari for their cooperation and support.

Last but not the least, I express my heart felt gratitude towards my family. I thank my husband Patrick for his patience, encouragement and persistent support because of which this thesis was possible. I thank him for standing by me when the going was tough and the end seemed no where. I dedicate this thesis to my father for whom academic development has always been of paramount importance. I thank him for all his help and constant support at every stage of my research. I thank my mother for the sacrifices and her prayers and good wishes that strengthened and helped me. My sister Trisha, for all the love, help, prayers and constant support throughout my research work. I also thank my brother Sanjeev for all the help and advice I received from him during my research.

And above all I owe it all to God who has been with me and helped me out of all trials and difficulties.
