ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I would like to thank many people who have helped me in this work.

First and foremost my husband, Om Dewan and my daughters, Priya and Sheri who have been the greatest source of encouragement to me.

I could not have completed this dissertation without the help of my maternal family, my mother Shrimati A N Agarwala, my brother Professor Umesh Narain Agarwala, and my sister-in-law Dr. Vinita Agarwala.

Dr. R. S Upadhyaya of the Department of Political Science, Pandit J N Nehru College, Banda, my research supervisor provided much critical discussions. As Advisor, he was a source not only of guidance but of intellectual stimulation as well.

My special thanks to Professor S P Nagendra, Director, Govind Ballabha Pant Institute of Social Sciences, Jhusi (Allahabad) for permitting me to use his Documentation Centre and also for providing all the help I needed during my visits to the Institute.

I would be failing in my duty for not acknowledging all what my nephew Vivek and my niece Pooja did to make my visits to various places comfortable.

Shubhanjali Dewan
