ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deep sense of gratitudes to both of my revered guides, the prime movers of my Doctoral Work, Dr. Banamali Mohanty, D.Litt., Reader and Head of the Department, Centre of Advanced Study in Psychology, Utkal University, and Dr. (Mrs.) Bijaylaxmi Das, Reader and Head, Department of Home Science, S.B. Women's College, Cuttack, for their worthy guidance, intensive devotion, constant inspiration, and scholastic insight at each and every stage of this piece of research work.

I am extremely obliged to the Department of Psychology, Utkal University, and to the authorities of National Library, Calcutta, for providing me the much needed library facilities for which it has been possible to complete this thesis.

My sincere gratitude to my subjects, and to the teachers of various Primary Schools of Cuttack, for their excellent co-operation given to me without which the whole task would have been impossible.

I express my indebtedness to the Hospital Authorities, Cuttack, for their kind help and co-operation.

I am very much thankful to Mr. Manoranjan Sethy for bringing out the computer print of this Doctoral work.

I am very glad to express my deep gratitude to my loving 'Mother', my elder sister, Capt. Sandhya Sen Gupta, Principal, Mohila Mahavidyalaya, Dhenkanal, my brothers, sister, and nieces who have been the source of inspirations throughout the study.

(Arati Sen Gupta)
The Author