ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The work presented in this thesis could be possible only because of active cooperation, guidance and assistance given by a number of persons and a few institutions. It is difficult to recount them all and I owe due apologies to all those whose contributions I have not been able to recount. However, I cannot afford not to mention a few.

This study was completed under the joint supervision of Dr. Jagannath Panda, Professor, Department of Commerce, Berhampur University and Dr. Bhagaban Das, Senior Lecturer, Department of Commerce, Dhenkanal College, Dhenkanal. I owe an immense debt of gratitude to Dr. Jagannath Panda for his affectionate guidance, close follow-up, intellectual leadership, perceptible criticism and sustained encouragement. I have no hesitation in admitting that without his inspiration and keen interest, this work could not have been started, much less completed. I also wish to express my profound gratitude to Dr. Bhagaban Das, a friend, philosopher and guide, who not only provided the required guidance at each stage but was also a source of inspiration for the work. I profusely thank him for his guidance and help.

The authorities of Utkal University allowed me to conduct the studies and have permitted me to present this work. I sincerely thank them.
The books, periodicals and other literature mentioned in the study were mostly made available to me by the I.C.S.S.R. Documentation Centre, New Delhi; National Library, Calcutta; Utkal University, Department of Commerce Library, Bhubaneswar; I.P.I.C.O.L. Library, Bhubaneswar; Berhampur University Library, Berhampur; F.M. College Library, Balasore. I am very much thankful to the librarians and authorities of these institutions for their selfless help in the course of the present study.

My thanks are also due to Sri Anjan Kumar Das, Reader in English, F.M. College, Balasore, for going through and correcting the errors in this thesis.

A special word of thanks is due to my colleague Sri Nalinikanta Swain, Lecturer in Commerce, F.M. College, Balasore for his technical guidance on giving the thesis the present get up.

I will fail in my duty if I do not sincerely thank my younger brother Sri Sanjay Kumar Mohanty, Director, Professional Academy of Computer Education, Balasore, who helped me in processing the data in computers and converting my handwritten manuscript into the present form.

I am also sincerely indebted to my parents for their blessings in the absence of which a task like this would have been a sheer impossibility.

Rabindra Kumar Sahu