ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a great pleasure for me to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. S. Mohanty for his able and inspiring guidance throughout the course of my work. His constructive suggestions and valuable advice made this thesis what it is.

I am highly indebted to Dr. W.S. Khokle, Head, Solid State Devices Division, Central Electronics Engineering Research Institute, Pilani, who in spite of his heavy commitments, spent valuable time to critically examine my work and made very useful comments. The constant help and encouragement rendered by him especially while Dr. S. Mohanty was at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Canada as a Visiting Assistant Professor of Physics are unforgettable.

I owe my appreciation to all the staff members of CEERI who have directly or indirectly helped me during my research study. I wish to express my sincere thanks to Drs. S.R. Gupta and Chandrasekhar for the useful discussion in the design and to Dr. B.R. Singh, Mr. P.N. Andhare and Mr. G.P. Wadhawan for their kind help in the fabrication of the device.

I am thankful to Prof. J. Vasi, Dr. A.N. Chandurkar, Mr. U.R. Kasbekar of Electrical Engineering department, I.I.T., Bombay for their kind cooperation during the final stage of the preparation of the thesis.
I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my friends Dr. G.S. Virdi, A.S.V. Sarma, S.C. Bose, S.K. Mahajan, S.C. Fathak, A. Mistri, H.S. Chopra and Naidu of CERI, for their moral support which made my stay at Pilani very enjoyable.

Thanks are also due to Dr. S.A. Talawdekar for bringing out the thesis in black and white. I thank Shri K. Ramesh and A.K. Sahu for helping me in the preparation of the thesis.

I am thankful to the Director, CERI, Pilani for providing the facilities for my research work and to the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research of India for the financial support.

My acknowledgements will remain incomplete without mentioning my brothers and sister-in-law, who share the credit of my education.

I have no word to acknowledge the kind blessing of my mother who was great source of inspiration in my higher studies.
