Acknowledgements

At the outset I submit my deepest gratitude to almighty for bringing forward the life, each day, the way desires. The help, cooperation and support of many associated directly or indirectly enabled me to complete this arduous task. Many gave me a helping hand and it is my duty and privilege to express my deep sense of appreciation for them.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Bhanumati Singh Department of Biotechnology, Bundelkhand University who greatly enriched my knowledge with his exceptional insights in to research. Her co-operation, suggestions and patience specially in completing this thesis gave me strong moral support. I sincerely thank her for his scientific advice and encouragements.

I feel the limitation of words from inside in trying to express my feelings for my co-supervisor, Dr. A.K. Singh, Head, Division of Fruit and Horticulture, IARJ, New Delhi. Right from starting of my Ph.D. programme, my endeavors in acclimatizing myself with the laboratory atmosphere, work culture and attitude, he always stood by me. Words are inadequate to express my heartfelt gratitude to him for illuminating guidance, constant inspiration and encouragement during the course of study. I sincerely wish to imbibe his poise, uncompromising, humble and affable nature.

Special thanks to Dr. N.K. Singh Head & PI Indian Rice Genome Sequencing Project, National Research Centre for Plant Biotechnology IARJ, New Delhi for providing his lab facility for molecular work. In fact the training on different molecular techniques in his lab was very much helpful in completing this work. With his enthusiasm, inspiration, and his great efforts of explaining things clearly and simply, has helped me to make research easy for me. Throughout my thesis-writing period, he provided encouragement, sound advice, good teaching, good company, and lots of good ideas. I would have been lost without him.

I thank the Head of Department of Biotechnology, Dr. Jose Mathew for his help and support in every way. I am grateful to the former Heads of Division of Fruit and Horticulture, IARJ for providing all the necessary facilities in lab. I thank to former Project Director Prof. K.R. Koundal and present Project Director Dr. P. Ananda Kumar for granting me the permission to work at National Research Centre for Plant Biotechnology IARJ, New Delhi.

Dr. Kishore Gaikwad deserves a special note of thanks for his guidance for cloning and library enrichment experiments.
I am indebted to my many colleagues for providing a stimulating and fun environment in which to learn and grow was really a fun. I am especially grateful to Dr. Archana Singh, Dr. Pankaj Sharma, Vibha Di, Anita, and rest of my lab mates who helped a lot at time of need in the field of plant molecular study.

I express my sincere thanks to the entire office staff of Horticulture Division and Biotechnology Division for their kind co-operation in every way. Also Many thanks to all the lab members for invaluable help in the lab.

With the depth of my heart I express my earnest gratitude towards my in-laws. Many thanks for their untiring patience and encouragements. I thank my brother-in-laws for sharing there ideas of life. Many thanks to my Jiju and Didi for there kind support and understanding.

My warm thankfulness is extended to my hubby, Chandrana whose love, care and optimism towards life always helped me carry on with this work. It was a great experience to give birth of my son “Chunnu” during final year of Ph.D. work, some times I felt difficulty in compiling this thesis but due to my husband’s selfless love, inexorable support I was able to devote more time towards my work. I owe him everything.

I am overwhelmed when it comes to express my gratitude towards my family members. My mom and dad who have been an everlasting source of love for which they have not demanded anything from me. I am really grateful to my cute little brother Debashish who always stood with me for all the support that I needed. It was impossible to complete this task without his support. I owe a lot to my nephews Kaku and Golu for their affection which provided me heavenly feeling. Financial support provided by NTP is gratefully acknowledged.
